SCOUT CODE WILL UNIFY CANADIANS, SAYS BADEN-POWELL

Will Build Strong, Healthy Citizenship and Canadianize All Elements, Chief Scout Tells Canadian Club; Urges Canada to Send Strong Contingent to Great Scout Rally in England.

The Boy Scout movement, which has hardly touched the outer fringe of Canadian boyhood yet, will train Canadian boys to stand together for their country as a whole and prevent them from dividing into narrow classes and selfish cliques, Lieutenant-General Sir Robert Baden-Powell, Chief Scout of the British Empire, declared in a spirited address before the Canadian Club at its luncheon in the Empress Hotel today.

Through the Boy Scout and Girl Guide movements, Sir Robert emphasized, the youth of Canada would receive education which they could not get from books in school—development which came from within themselves. The Chief Scout said he knew nothing about education in its ordinary sense and regarded himself merely as a "butterfly" touring about the world. The Boy Scout experiment, however, had proved to him that by teaching the boy and girl to "play the game" a stronger, healthier citizenship could be built. This, he declared, was most important to a new country like Canada, where foreign elements were strong and where it was essential to "Canadianize" every section of the population.

Chairman's Address
The defence of Mafeking and the organization of the Boy Scout movement would open the gates of fame to any man and make him a welcome guest in any part of the British Empire, said the president, Rev. Dr. Clay, introducing the guest of honor. "One was a great military movement and the other a great citizen's achievement."

Many Brothers and Sisters
"Well, I'm the father of 2,000,000 boys, I'm glad I have so many brothers and sisters here," the General remarked as he rose to speak. "You are interested in the progress of Canada as any of you," he declared. "I realize as well as anyone the splendid destiny that awaits you."

Practical Chief
Sir Robert praised British Columbia and its superb climate, which contrasted strikingly with conditions on the prairies and in the East. "It's a glorious thing to find since I was here last how many service organizations like this have sprung up and consolidated," Sir Robert went on. "You have made this position an particularly delighted that your women have formed such organizations."

"That spirit of service which inspires your organizations is the spirit with which we are trying to inspire the youngsters. When you get that spirit you make them practical patriots. We devote ourselves to practice, not to precepts."

Valuable to New Country
"This work among the young should be particularly valuable in a new country like Canada, where many foreigners are settling. It will help to Canadianize them and remove the race distinctions between them, building up a stronger citizenship. There is a danger in some service societies, however," Sir Robert warned. "Some are apt to become too self-centred. If they would keep their minds on the common cause they would be of more use."

J. R. MACDONALD, BRITISH LABOR CHIEF, TO BE HONOURED

London, April 24.—J. Ramsay MacDonald, Labor leader in the House of Commons, probably will be made a Privy Counsellor in the immediate future, according to The Daily Express. Mr. MacDonald is the first leader of the Opposition in the history of Parliament to hold this position. The members of the Privy Council have the complimentary title "Right Honorable." Arthur Henderson, John R. Clynes and James Henry Thomas are among the prominent Laborites who for some time have been Privy Counsellors.

NEW YORK PLANS MUSICAL FESTIVAL

Will Follow Canadian Cities' Lead Next Year

Prof. Bantock, Birmingham, Eng., Coming to Coast

Montreal, April 24.—Canada, particularly Western Canada, has shown the United States something. She has demonstrated the value of the musical festival idea so convincingly that New York is going to follow her lead and next year hold a musical festival, an event which will be the first of its kind in that country.

This fact is vouched for by Granville Bantock, M. A., Professor of Music, Birmingham University, and noted British composer, who has arrived in Montreal from New York. Professor Bantock will leave on Saturday for Toronto, where he will act as adjudicator at the Ontario musical festival. Later he will go West to act in a similar capacity at festivals being held at Winnipeg, Prince Albert, Edmonton and Vancouver.

On the completion of these engagements he expects to make an extensive tour of the Pacific Coast for the purpose of addressing branches of the English-Speaking Union.

SCOUTS RALLY AROUND CHIEF

Famous Leader Reviews Victoria and Island Units

Five Hundred Eager Voices Acclaim Hero of Mafeking

Reviewing troops and wolf cub packs from the Scout organization of Victoria, Vancouver Island, and the Gulf Islands at Beacon Hill Park this afternoon, Sir Robert Baden-Powell recalled a previous inspection here in the year 1911, when the founder of the world-wide movement addressed the Scouts of that day.

The proceedings for the rally commenced at two o'clock, when nine troops and eight packs from Victoria and five troops from up-island and Gulf Island points paraded under District Commissioner G. H. Scarrett and their individual leaders. Forming up the parade-marched to the front of the park, where Sir Robert, from a covered stand, presided over the ceremony. The parade was scheduled to take place at 2.30 p. m. Promptly at that hour Sir Robert Baden-Powell and his staff arrived.

The Welcome.
For a moment there was nothing in sight except the Chief Scout and his party, and then from the broom on every side sprang the 200 members of the Wolf Cubes, giving voice to their "grand howl" with a will. The Cubs closed in on their leader in the form of a circle and almost simultaneously the Scouts broke from cover and swelled the rally by 300 more eager lads in uniform. The Scouts formed the customary semi-circle around their Chief, giving their patrol calls, and then a given signal all closed in to form the close circle.

To 500 boys on tip toe massed around him the Chief Scout addressed a brief but informal talk in which he paid high tribute to the work of the local organization. Then followed a review of the units represented.

All repaired to the South Park School, when the Chief Scout will address the leaders, Scouts and Cubs of the rally. The proceedings at Beacon Hill Park this afternoon were witnessed by a large attendance of the public, and the appearance of the boys called forth generous comments on every hand. At the South Park School four trophies are to be presented by the Chief Scout. These include the Jeune Camp trophy, won by the "Victoria West" Pack for the greatest number of nights in camp; the Jeune tent won by L. Holmes, of the James Bay pack; the Okeil Camping trophy, won by the Langford Patrol; and a Union Jack donated by Mrs. Muskett and won by the Collegiate unit.

The Officers.
Under District Commissioner G. H. Scarrett the Victoria units paraded under their individual leaders, including R. A. Walcott, Leslie Sykes, R. E. Honour, R. W. Hartley, C. S. Frampton, L. C. Villiamy, A. Mac-Artie, S. W. Raven, and many others. A feature of the parade was the presence of Scouts from units at Galiano Island, Alberni, Cumberland, Merrington, Parksville, and Sidney. From the roar of welcome that symbolized their welcome to "B.P." to the rapt and silent attention with which they stood on tip toe to listen to his words, the boys take part in the rally showed what a dominant factor in their lives the Scout movement had become.

FARMERS RETURN SLOWLY TO WORK IN NORFOLK, ENG.

London, April 24.—(Canadian Press Cable).—Although the strike of farm laborers in Norfolk has been settled on terms by which the workers will get twenty-five shillings for a fifty-four-hour week, a hitch has occurred regarding resumption of work which affects forty per cent. of those who went on strike. It is expected, therefore, that some time will elapse before all the men will be back at work.

MET VIOLENT DEATH

Toronto, April 24.—A man giving his name as James Boyd, died in a hospital here today as the result of injuries received when he was knocked down and run over by a street car.

GLASS BOUL WON THE METROPOLITAN

Sangrail Second in English Race To-day

Sewing Machine Third; Eighteen Horses Started

London, April 24.—(Canadian Press Cable).—For the second year in succession the great Metropolitan Handicap, one of the most important horse races of note over the flat, and the feature of the opening day at the Epsom Spring meeting, has been won by an outsider, Mrs. Heyburn's five-year-old colt Glass Idol, starting at 25 to 1 against, winning to-day by two lengths over Joseph Benson's Sangrail, the winner of this race a year ago, at the outside odds of 20 to 1 against. Sangrail, who started at 100 to 9 against to-day, finished half a length in front of E. T. J. Rawson's four-year-old Sewing Machine, quoted at 7 to 1 against. Eighteen horses started.

The great Metropolitan Stakes of 15 sovereigns each, with 600 sovereigns added, is run over a course of about two and a quarter miles.

DISTURBANCES IN ARCTIC REGIONS

Earthquake Caused Twenty-one Deaths in Kamchatka Town

Fishing Stations on Korean Coast Were Destroyed

Washington, April 24.—Tremendous earth and sea disturbances have taken place recently in the Arctic and may still be continuing, according to Chita dispatches to-day giving details of the earthquake recently reported at Petropavlovsk, Kamchatka, which carried several buildings into the sea. The total casualties are not known, but the loss of twenty-one lives already is definitely established.

Tokio, April 24.—The violent earthquake on April 14 that broke up ice fields and caused a tidal wave which destroyed fishing and wireless stations on the east coast of Korea also caused other damage off the Kamchatka Peninsula April 15, according to a special dispatch from Vladivostok to The Asahi and according to private messages received in Tokio.

The Tokio seismographs recorded on April 14 a shock believed to have originated off the Aleutian Islands. The earthquake on April 14 broke up ice fields and caused a tidal wave which destroyed fishing and wireless stations on the east coast of Korea also caused other damage off the Kamchatka Peninsula April 15, according to a special dispatch from Vladivostok to The Asahi and according to private messages received in Tokio.

QUEBEC MINERS FORCED COMPANY MEN OUT OF TOWN

Sherbrooke, Que., April 24.—Trouble broke out at Thetford Mines yesterday when a number of dissatisfied miners ran C. H. McNutt, superintendent of the Asbestos Mines, Ltd., and J. H. Anderson of the Cook Construction Company, Montreal, out of town. The situation is considered serious and the miners will not be allowed to return to work until McNutt is back on the job.

ROYAL WEDDING REHEARSED TO-DAY

Final Preparations for Event in London Thursday

Many Gifts for Duke of York and Bride

London, April 24.—Before London's populace awoke to-day the ceremony which will attend the marriage on Thursday of the Duke of York and Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon was being rehearsed in pantomime at Westminster Abbey. Hardly had the sun begun to dissipate the fog over the capital when a series of dummy carriages emerged from Buckingham Palace and proceeded over the route of the procession to the Abbey, where the occupants, including the court chamberlains, liveried servants and others went through all the forms of Thursday's ceremony. Members of the Royal Household played the parts of the bride and groom, while an official assumed the role of King George.

London's regions of toilers, who by reason of their hours of labor will be unable to attend the wedding, are gathering to-day to-day's rehearsal was on, thus got the first glimpse of the mechanical features of the ceremony.

Gifts.
Among the treasures showered upon the Duke of York and his future Duchess, none has excited more popular interest than those of the Prince and Princess, which include an automobile, a pair of gold candlesticks, a gold cigarette case, a sable coat and a diamond bracelet. The used-up car, which had been in the Prince's own hands in Alberta, Canada.

The most practical of all the presents probably is a large quantity of sheets and pillow cases and other linen with a monogram worked on it. This supply for the future household comes from Princess Mary and Viscountess Lascelles, who know from their own recent wedding experience the utter uselessness of many of the gifts lavished upon them by their friends.

Those who have been privileged to see the mountain of sumptuous gifts displayed at Buckingham Palace are appreciating the value of the ropes of pearls, diamond necklaces, bracelets, pendants, brooches and earrings of turquoise and rubies that make up the collection. To date more than 1,000 bridal tokens have been bestowed upon the Duke and his modest Scottish bride and the appraisals of their cost run well into seven figures. It seems probable the less useful will be given away to charitable institutions or to members of the household.

FAMILIES TO COME TO CANADIAN FARMS

British Government to Aid Dominion Emigration Society

London, April 24.—(Canadian Press Cable).—Colonel Buckley, secretary to the Overseas Trade Department, stated in the Commons that the scheme under the Empire Settlement Act varied considerably, but in a general way they all provided for loans without interest and to be recoverable by instalments. Free grants were made in certain cases with respect to the more distant destinations.

Colonel Buckley said he did not think there had been any direct payment to the Canadian Government for assisting settlers.

A member asked: In considering any financial assistance to the Canadian Government in connection with the emigration scheme, will the Secretary keep in mind the fact that the Canadian Government is conducting a subsidy to a private exploitation company in Canada of $10,000 a month?

The Speaker said notice of the question must be given to the House.

Replying to further questions, Colonel Buckley said he was aware valuable work had been performed by the British Dominions Emigration Society. He added that the Overseas Settlement Committee desired to encourage voluntary efforts in connection with Empire-directed emigration and was prepared to consider proposals for co-operation with voluntary societies under the terms of the settlement act. He hoped shortly to conclude an agreement with the society for assisting about seventy-five families to proceed to Canada in the next three months.

IN ITALY 20,000 ARMY OFFICERS ARE RETIRED

Rome, April 24.—Minister of War Diaz, continuing the plan of retrenchment laid down by Premier Mussolini, has placed on the retired list 20,000 officers ranging from generals to second lieutenants.

BULGARIAN PREMIER WINS ELECTION

Two-thirds of New Deputies Support Him

Some Talk of Making Kingdom into Republic

Sofia, April 24.—Premier Stamboulsky's victory in the Bulgarian election, which gives him a two-thirds majority in Parliament, will probably result in a revision of the constitution so as to re-establish the privileges of the peasant class and diminish the prerogatives of the King, it is believed here.

Extreme partisans of the Government talk of replacing the monarchy with a republic. Incomplete election returns give the bourgeois and Communist parties more than fifty seats.

QUEBEC MINERS FORCED COMPANY MEN OUT OF TOWN

Sherbrooke, Que., April 24.—Trouble broke out at Thetford Mines yesterday when a number of dissatisfied miners ran C. H. McNutt, superintendent of the Asbestos Mines, Ltd., and J. H. Anderson of the Cook Construction Company, Montreal, out of town. The situation is considered serious and the miners will not be allowed to return to work until McNutt is back on the job.

SECESSION TALK POLITICAL RUSE

Premier Says Nova Scotia People Not Considering It

Montreal, April 24.—"Secession has become the word of the day," H. W. Corning, a small group of Conservatives, first, because it is only a way of coming into the minds of the people of Nova Scotia. "As far as I can see," said the Premier, "the only people with whom we could make any treaty would be those of Sable Island."

On the other hand he stated the Fordney Tariff of the United States and the high freight rates in Eastern Canada, the lack of preferential tariff and other overights had so disheartened the people of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island that they feel they are simply being left out.

Asked as to emigration, Mr. Armstrong was sorry to say his province was losing all its fine young fishermen. They were leaving for the United States and the problem was every bit as serious in Nova Scotia to-day as it was in Quebec or the prairie provinces.

H. W. Corning is Conservative member of the Nova Scotia Legislative Assembly for Yarmouth. A resolution moved by him calling for a referendum on Nova Scotia on the question of secession of the Province from the Canadian Confederation was voted down, only two members supporting it.

YOUTH CONFESSES HE KILLED RABBI

Arrested in Arizona; Crime in San Francisco

Phoenix, Ariz., April 24.—A nineteen-year-old youth, giving his name as G. O. Richardson, arrested here yesterday for investigation, has confessed the killing of Rabbi Alfred G. Lefko in San Francisco about three weeks ago, according to the police. A diary found in his possession, police said, definitely connected him with the crime.

A notation found in the diary on Richardson's person led officers to question him regarding the attack on the San Francisco rabbi. At first the youth denied any knowledge of the crime, but later admitted he had dealt the death blow, J. J. McGrath, chief of detectives said. Richardson told the police they said that he was a deserter from the Marine Island Navy Yard.

CHURCH UNION OPPOSED IN HAMILTON, ONT.

Hamilton, Ont., April 24.—Anti-unionists last night addressed a gathering of over 500 Presbyterians representing all sections of the Hamilton Presbytery. Rev. W. G. Brown, of Red Deer, Alta., was among the speakers. Criticism of the committee on church union brought applause from the large gathering on several occasions. That the movement would destroy the Presbyterian Church in Canada and that it was introducing politics into religious work were two charges.

MAN KILLED BY FALL

Sherbrooke, Que., April 24.—Following a drop of forty feet from the third story of the city office here, Joseph Boudreau died in a hospital yesterday.

HARDING WISHES U.S. TO JOIN WORLD COURT, BUT NOT THE LEAGUE

To Share In Operations of Court Would Be In Harmony With Aspirations of People of Republic, He Declares In Public Statement.

New York, April 24.—Participation by the United States in the world court as proposed by the United States administration, President Harding declared at the annual luncheon of members of the Associated Press here to-day, would be "in harmony with party pledges, candidatorial promises and American aspirations," and would not be an entry into the League of Nations "by the side door, the back door or the cellar door."

"Excessive friends" of the League, the President declared, have beclouded the situation by an unwarranted assumption that the proposal is a move toward membership in the League, while the irreconcilable opponents of the league have also beclouded the question with the assumption that entanglements with Europe would unavoidably follow. The fear of entanglements the President dismissed with the blunt declaration that if the Senate were to consent to any his administration declared no complete ratification of such a proposal and would thereby prevent it from becoming effective.

600-FOOT TOWER AT THE GREAT EMPIRE FAIR
London, April 24.—London is soon to have an "Eifel Tower" built of concrete, 600 feet high. It will be erected at Wembley, the seat of the British Empire Exhibition. Although falling short of the height of the Eiffel Tower in Paris, the proposed structure will give visitors to the exhibition a panoramic view of the country for hundreds of square miles.

DIFFICULTY ARISES AT LAUSANNE

Turks Wish to Cast Off France as Economic Pilot

Developments at Near East Conference Awaited

Lausanne, April 24.—Resumption of the peace negotiations between the Allies and the Turks has given rise to the suggestion that Turkey's expressed desire to cast off France as her economic pilot may lead to difficulties that will prove to be an important development of the conference. Most of the Turkish debt is owed to France, whose nationals also have a preponderance of the economic holdings in the domain now governed from Ankara. The Turks express a desire to shake off French control, but spokesmen of the latter country aver they are interested in protecting legitimate French investments in Turkey, to which end they have already made extensive concessions.

Activities of bands of Turkish irregulars along the borders of Syria, a French mandate, appear to have entered into the situation, resulting in the dispatch of General Weygand to Syria.

U.S.-MEXICAN DISCUSSION SOON
Washington, April 24.—Secretary Hughes announced to-day that the United States Commissioners who will meet Mexican Commissioners will meet Charles B. Warren, of Detroit, former Ambassador to Japan, and John Barneby, former Secretary of the Interior and now chairman of the Red Cross.

The appointments have been made as the result of an agreement between the United States and Mexican Governments to appoint a commission of two representatives for each country to meet in Mexico City at an early date to explore further the possibilities of removing the obstacles to recognition of the Obregon Government by the United States.

Announcement of the commission agreement was made last night. Secretary Hughes in a brief statement in which it was said the two Governments' representatives on the commission would meet "for the purpose of exchanging impressions and of reporting them to their respective authorities."

NEED IMMIGRANTS TO STOP EMIGRANTS, PATULLO URGES

Large Population Luring the People to United States, He Says

No Necessity to Worry About Newcomers Not Being Absorbed

The Dominion Government will adopt a much more open policy than has heretofore prevailed, according to the belief expressed to-day by Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, who has been in the East for six weeks working to get a flow of immigration started towards this Province.

To look after B. C.'s interests, the Ottawa Government will take into its service a B. C. official, most likely Major Clarke, who made the immigration tour to India for the Provincial Government, Mr. Pattullo said.

"A policy that will not admit anyone into the country until a job was in sight is bound to retard development," Mr. Pattullo said. "It is like running a business short-handed. The business will not develop to its capacity."

The solution of Canada's problem is, more people. Everyone knows and admits that the irrigation project in the South Okanagan, which is being developed under my department, can only be a success by getting people on to the land. In my opinion, the resources of British Columbia, and the Dominion as a whole, in exactly the same relationship to immigration as does the South Okanagan project.

"We need not worry about the newcomers being absorbed. Individual initiative and individual resources will find outlet in innumerable directions."

"Complaint has been made that a number of people have been leaving the country. If you do not want to have immigration you will have to have emigration. The movement of a large number of people into the country will of itself provide employment for those who are already here."

"In spite of a high tariff, the United States is one of the largest free trade countries in the world. She has a market of 110,000,000 people, without let or hindrance of any tariff."

"The many and lucrative opportunities which only a large population can offer is what lures many of the young men and women from Canada to the United States. Keep Canada to the United States with more people and there will be more people stay at home."

"The main reason that took me west was as a delegate from Prince Rupert to ascertain from the Dominion Government its policy with regard to the Grand Trunk Pacific. I found that the Canadian National lines in respect of the British Columbia question is not merely a local question affecting the Province and the northern portion of British Columbia, but is one of very great importance to the whole of the Dominion. Northern development continues apace and means millions of dollars annually to southern British Columbia."

The Dominion Government assured the Prince Rupert delegation that the present policy concerning the Grand Trunk Pacific was the same as that of the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and the Government was prepared to stand behind the railway management in respect of any recommendations made to it.

The delegation also waited upon Sir Henry Thornton, who was sympathetic to the representations made, and will visit Prince Rupert on an early date to look over the situation at first hand.

E. H. GARY SUPPORTS U.S. IMMIGRATION RESTRICTION PLAN

New York, April 24.—Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation, denied to-day that he was in favor of unrestricted immigration.

"On the contrary," he said in a statement to a newspaperman, "I believe there should be restrictions. I do not think our immigration laws should permit immigration that could reasonably be construed as inimical to domestic labor of any kind, to our Government or to the public welfare."

The reason for his statement, he said, was that some newspapers had assumed in editorials that he had expressed an opinion in favor of unrestricted immigration at the stockholders' meeting of the United States Steel Corporation last week.

The funeral of the late Mrs. John Alfred Maltravers took place Saturday afternoon from the B. C. Funeral Chapel at 3.30, where service was conducted. Many friends attended and the casket was covered with flowers. The hymn sung was "Abide With Me." The following were pallbearers: J. Knight, F. W. Jenkins, B. Jacklin, T. C. Jones, J. Ishler and E. Conway. The remains were interred at Ross Bay Cemetery.

DOES ONE KNOW IF HE WILL ACCEPT COMBINATION RATES

Known as North Atlantic and United Kingdom Conference

Ottawa, April 24.—(Canadian Press)—"Upon the regular steamship lines trading from Canadian ports the price of transportation service is determined neither by the law of supply and demand, nor on the basis of cost plus a reasonable profit, but a combine exists among the various shipping companies, which combine is known as the North Atlantic and United Kingdom Conference, eastward bound."

With this declaration, the Special Committee of the House of Commons named to investigate the conditions surrounding the agricultural industry, the committee will be given the evidence presented by shippers and steamship men on ocean freight rates.

The chairman of the committee, A. J. McManis, Liberal member for Brome, this afternoon presented an interim report to Parliament.

"The headquarters of this organization," the report continues, "are at 10 Bridge Street, New York. It is a very large number, if not all of the principal steamship companies operating regularly out of North Atlantic ports."

Made in New York. W. W. Chase, Atlantic freight rates are made in New York the first Thursday in every month. To this North Atlantic Conference belong nearly all the lines running from Montreal, including the Canadian Government Merchant Marine.

"It will be remembered that the Canadian Government Merchant Marine, as well as the Canadian National Railways, is operated under the control of a Board and not by a Minister of the Crown."

Substantially to this conference there exists a smaller association of steamship lines connected with steamship lines trading out of Montreal. This association is called sometimes the Canadian Liner Committee and sometimes the Weekly Liner Committee. They hold meetings as a rule every Monday afternoon at the headquarters of the companies, whose representatives are for the association.

The minutes of various meetings of the association, produced before your committee, the report continues, "show that the lines or transportation companies constituting the association are as follows: Cunard, Anchor, Donaldson and Thomson Lines; Canadian Pacific Ocean Services, Ltd.; White Star-Donaldson Line; with which certain vessels of the Canadian Steamship Lines, Ltd., are associated; Furness, Withy and Company, and the Canadian Government Merchant Marine, Ltd."

The object of these meetings was very clearly stated by L. A. W. Doherty, the representative of one of these lines as being to stabilize or keep uniform the situation of ocean transportation.

It was contended by the gentleman who represented the Canadian Government Merchant Marine before the committee that the line merely "sat in" with the rest of the steamship lines at the weekly meetings, and that they were in the same manner as the others were bound to maintain rates.

Careful consideration of the evidence supports this contention. It would appear the several years the Canadian Merchant Marine has been in existence, no other matter in regard to this or other matters a weekly meeting was held, at which representatives of all the steamship lines attended. At this meeting rates were agreed upon, and the members of the line had the right to depart from the rates so established with consulting with and warning his competitors to do so. An item of the weekly meeting was directed by one member to another if this line of conduct was not followed.

Only Fringe.

"We have only touched the outer fringe of Canadian boyhood," Sir Robert stated, in urging young men and women to enter into the Scout and Guide movements and guide boys and girls in it. "You can teach them how to be good."

Hon. F. A. Pauline, Speaker of the B. C. Legislature, expressed the thanks of the Club to the speaker of the day and paid a warm tribute to the work of Sir Robert and his wife. Every loyal Canadian, he said, was heart and soul with them in their efforts.

OFFERS CHURCH RADIO TO CITY FOR ADVERTISING

Instead of installing a large radio broadcasting station of its own to advertise Victoria, the city authorities can use the expensive radio equipment now being installed by the Centennial Methodist Church, Rev. Dr. Clem Davies, pastor of the church, announced to-day. "The city will be welcome to use the church radio," Dr. Davies stated. "The radius of this broadcasting installation will be 3,000 miles which is as much as the city could desire. It will be a bigger equipment than any in Vancouver, and as large as any on the coast. It can be used for concerts, public speeches, and anything else the city wishes."

TO WELCOME BRITISH KING AND QUEEN

Italians Prepare Impressive Demonstration of Friendship

London, April 24.—The visit of King George and Queen Mary to Italy next month will be the most elaborate event of its character since the war. The Italians are planning to outdo any previous efforts at entertaining royalty. This is said to be largely due to the Fascist, who wish to contrast the splendor of his visit with the rather cold reception given by the Italian Government to the Belgian King and Queen last year.

The British sovereigns will not be obliged to move from their private car while traveling in Italy, as it will be attached to the Italian royal train. The Italian train will carry the arms of Great Britain besides those of Italy.

The British royal standard will be flown on the engine. King Victor Emmanuel, Queen Helena and the royal princes, Premier Mussolini and his Cabinet, the President of the Senate and Chamber of Deputies, members of the British Embassy and all the high dignitaries of the country will be at the station to greet the British visitors.

A state visit will be paid to the Dowager Queen Margherita.

State Dinner.

A state dinner will be held in the palace at night. A brilliant reception in the magnificent hall of the Quirinal will follow the dinner.

On May 3 the royal visitors will drive to the Pantheon, where they will be met by the King, King Victor Emmanuel and King Humbert. Later they will receive veterans of the war, orphans and dependents. They will pass through two solid lines of members of the Fascist movement in their black shirts from the Pantheon to the grave of the Unknown Warrior, where another wreath will be placed.

To Visit Pope.

The visit will reach its climax on Wednesday, when a state visit will be made to Pope Pius XI. The route from the Quirinal to the Vatican will be decorated and lined with troops. From the entrance to the Vatican grounds to the Pope's audience chamber the royal party will be escorted by the Papal Guard officers, with the famous Swiss Guards in attendance. This will be the first time since 1870 that such an elaborate display for a state occasion has been made by the Vatican. The audience will be somewhat private, only the highest dignitaries of the Papal Court being present. The British Minister to the Holy See will attend King George and it is expected that after the visit to the Pope, Cardinal Gasparri, the Papal Secretary of State, will return to the call at the home of the British Minister.

To Tour District.

After the Vatican visit, King George and Queen Mary will return to the Quirinal, and accompanied by King Emmanuel and Queen Helena, will make a tour in the neighborhood of Rome. The British sovereigns have requested that they be allowed to visit the Italian battlefields and the Cathedral at Milan.

One of a party of men left his corner seat in an already crowded railway compartment to go in search of something to eat, leaving a rug to reserve his place. On returning he found that, in spite of the rug and the protests of his fellow-passenger, the seat had been usurped by a woman. With flashing eyes she turned upon him.

"Do you know, sir, that I am one of the director's wives?" "Madam," he replied, "were you the director's only wife I should still protest."—Tit-Bits.

When the woman next door called to complain that Tommy had been persecuting her pet cat she found the cat on the floor.

"I want to see your father," she demanded.

"I'm afraid you can't see him now," the boy replied respectfully.

"I intend to see him instantly," the woman insisted in a loud voice.

"Well, all right," the little fellow agreed, opening the front door.

"Walk upstairs. You'll find him in the bathroom takin' a bath."

A Result

"This state of affairs brought about the following extraordinary result. The Government of the United States forced the Shipping Board of the United States to manage the United States Government-owned steamers, to make a very low rate for the transportation of mail, and to rate the below a commercial rate. This rate applied only to four ground in the United States, and the rate was established at a given moment a rate of 15c per 100 pounds on four ground in the United States, while the rate on Canadian flour—a very substantial differential against Canadian millers."

To this agreement, as a member of the North Atlantic Conference, the Canadian Government Merchant Marine was a party.

Not So Intended

The committee in view of the vast number of people by the Canadian people on the development of a merchant marine were never intended to bring about this result.

"The committee desired to bring the facts in this regard to the attention of the House and would respectfully suggest that the Minister of Railways and Canals should take the matter up with the Canadian National Railway Board for consideration and appropriate action."

After a short meeting a little singing was indulged in by some of the members of a social gathering, and half-way down the programme the name of Mr. Bert Brown figured.

When the time came for him to appear a messenger arrived to say that the gentleman was suffering from a bad cold, and therefore the chairman had to excuse him to the audience.

"Ladies and gentlemen," he said, "I have to announce that Mr. Brown will be unable to sing as announced and therefore Mr. Green will give us a Song of Thanksgiving."—Tit-Bits.

KIWANIS RECOGNIZE TALENT

Give Boy Who Aided Minstrel Show a Presentation

Major C. S. Cowan, head of the fire protection service, spoke briefly to the Kiwanis Club to-day on the Destruction of Forest Wealth. Last year there were 2,600 forest fires. The loss amounted to about $25,000,000, to say nothing of another million spent in fighting forest fires. In B. C. the seed and the young saplings are destroyed in this way. The ground would re-seed itself naturally if the fires were prevented. The tree crop was largely mature and was in some cases going back and should be replanted properly. He did not see much use talking about bringing tourists, if the scenery which was going to attract them was to be ruined.

Players Club.

An appeal was made to the members to remember the show on Monday night. After the show Mrs. Dr. MacLean entertained the visiting Players' Club from the University. The chairman asked that cars be supplied Tuesday morning to drive them around the city at 11 noon on Tuesday. They will be the guests of Kiwanis at lunch.

Receives Watch.

Master Albert Acres was presented with a watch in recognition of his services in connection with the minstrel show. Albert expressed his thanks, and also further expressed his appreciation by "shaking the bones."

LEAGUE FIGHTS THE DRUG EVIL

Lord Robert Cecil Tells of Efforts of Association of Nations

New York, April 24.—Lord Robert Cecil, League of Nations exponent, replied last night to a letter from Chairman Porter of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, who had declared that the League "instead of suppressing the traffic in habit-forming drugs, did quite the contrary."

After reiterating that the League had struck vigorous blows at this traffic, for which statement he was criticized by Chairman Porter, Lord Robert wrote:

"The League has not recommended any weakening of the terms of the international convention of 1912, which provided for the gradual but complete suppression within the territory of each signatory of the abuse of prepared opium and its derivatives. On the contrary, it has successfully urged considerable extension of the number of states which have signed it, including fifty-one out of its fifty-two members."

The main difficulty in dealing with the suppression of the abuse of opium in countries which have accepted the convention is the smuggling traffic, and the League has recommended that, in order to deal with this, no country shall be allowed to import or export of raw opium for any purpose whatever except under governmental license of the export and import countries.

SOFT FOR ENVOYS, GET FREE WINE

But Must Pay for Own Sleepers; Poincare Lays Down Economy Rules

London, April 24.—French Ministers Plenipotentiary at the new Lausanne conference will be allowed one bottle of wine for the expenses of legation and other secondary officials; half a bottle, and clerks, typists, &c., will have to pay for their own.

It is in the interest of economy, Premier Poincare objected to holding the conference in Switzerland because of the expense of the Temperance Act, which he had introduced in the Legislature of that province, but he had been told that the usual purpose of appeal was to allow witnesses to get out of the country. No appeal, it was said, was allowed under the Ontario Temperance Act.

Here Hon. J. B. M. Baxter said a clause of the bill to prevent appeal of a case of certiorari, and Hon. H. S. Beland, Minister of Health, observed that the usual purpose of appeal was to allow witnesses to get out of the country. No appeal, it was said, was allowed under the Ontario Temperance Act.

"HAD A NARROW ESCAPE"

"I never realized until a few months ago how risky it is to neglect a cold in the chest. I have always had such good health, that a cold either in the head or chest, while unpleasant, never gave me any worry. Outside an occasional cold, I had never known what it was to be laid up even for a day in all my life, until last December. One afternoon I got a chill and no matter how close I got to the stove, I couldn't seem to get warm. This chill was followed by a cold in my chest. As usual I neglected it and it kept getting worse and worse. Finally I had to go to bed and send for a doctor. His examination showed that I had pneumonia and a bad case at that. By careful nursing on the part of my husband, my children and some friends, I managed to pull through, but the doctor told me I had a narrow shave. And here's where my troubles began. I was now out of danger, I was anything but well, I was still very weak from the effects of the pneumonia. Although I had lots of life and energy before my sickness, I was now worn out and tired all the time. I slept fairly well, more because I was exhausted. But my sleep didn't refresh me because, while I appeared to be asleep, I was conscious most of the time of what was going on around me. Although all kinds of tempting dishes were prepared for me, I had no relish for food. This sickness had already undermined my health to such an extent that I was a living skeleton. I was getting discouraged as nothing I took seemed to do me any good. I wonder if Carol wouldn't build you up? Carol would say one day, 'it did me a world of good, I was completely run down and you can see for yourself how well I look today. Why don't you try it?' Thanks to this friend's advice I am in perfect health again, as healthy and as full of life and vitality as I have ever been."

Carol is sold by your druggist, and if you can't find it, write to me, after you have tried it, that it has done you any good, return the empty bottle to him and he will refund your money. 9-622

The cost of food folly

The cost of your food mistakes is not in dollars and cents alone, but in years of suffering from indigestion—and that means low vitality with little strength to resist disease. Cut down the high protein foods, avoid potatoes and sweets for awhile, and get down to a simple diet of Shredded Wheat Biscuit with green vegetables and fruits, and see how much better you feel. Shredded Wheat is all food. It is the whole wheat in a digestible form. Two Biscuits with milk or cream make a complete, nourishing meal, that costs but a few cents.

TRISCUIT
is the Shredded Wheat cracker—a real whole wheat toast—eaten with butter, soft cheese or marmalades.

Compare Chevrolet With Any Other Car

Compare Chevrolet with any other car manufactured. Compare it from every possible angle. Let the comparison be searching—exhaustive. What do you find?

Price—Chevrolet is the world's lowest-priced, fully-equipped, quality car.

Upkeep—The cost of operating Chevrolet is lower than that of any other car built.

Performance—Chevrolet is sturdily built to do anything and go anywhere possible with any car, and it will go where many others cannot. The valve-in-head motor is powerful, flexible and quick in the "pick-up."

Appearance—Chevrolet is designed with beautiful stream-line bodies. The finish is of the highest grade and extremely durable. Chevrolet closed cars have Fisher bodies—the highest quality body procurable and one with quality written in every line.

Value—Chevrolet gives you the best transportation per dollar invested that you can buy. Economy in first price and the lowest operating cost provide a value that stands first in comparison with any other car.

Make a personal comparison of these Chevrolet features before you buy any car. It will give you a new measure by which to judge motor cars.

"Betty Blue" Predominates in Trousseau of Duke of York's Bride

London, April 24.—When Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon is married to the Duke of York on Thursday, she will wear a wedding dress of simple medieval design.

The design dates back to the fourteenth century and will be unusual because of its beauty and quaintness. The material will be chiffon made of an old ivory color embroidered with pearl beads, pearls and silver lame.

The gown will fall almost straight from the shoulders to the hem, following the lines of the figure more or less closely above the waist, but getting fuller toward the hem. The skirt will touch the toes.

Machine-Made Lace.

The ivory tone has been chosen to match the lace, which has been made especially at Nottingham. Lady Elizabeth will be the first royal bride to wear machine-made lace. It is a perfect reproduction of an old Malines pattern.

This lace will be used for the medieval sleeves, covering the arm as far as the elbow. The lower half of the arm is bare, but the lace falls in two long ends to the ground at the back.

For embroidery there are three

Lady Betty, a negligee and an afternoon gown which are part of her trousseau, and the pattern of machine-made lace used in her wedding gown.

bands of silver lame across the bodice and a central one that is continued down the front of the skirt. This silver is partly covered both on the bodice and the skirt with a conventional design carried out in pearls, pearl beads and fine silver thread, the hard lines of the lame being softened by tiny scrolls of silver thread each centred with a pearl on either side.

Old lace worn by the queen at her wedding will form the train of the wedding gown. This will be mounted on chiffon.

A tulle veil mounted with a wreath of orange blossoms will complete the costume.

Romantic Touch.

One romantic item of the trousseau is a strip of priceless old rose point Brussels lace which is to be inserted in the wedding dress.

It has been an heirloom in the Strathmore family for generations. An ancestress of the bride wore it at a great ball given for "Bonnie Prince Charlie" when he was staying at Hollywood palace in Scotland.

In keeping with the loveliness of the bride's gown will be the dresses worn by her bridesmaids. They will be made of cream chiffon. In the trimming the bride has defied all old superstitions about the unluckiness of green.

A silver and rose thistle will fasten the grille of silver leaves from which a trail of spring green tulle at one side will trail to the ground.

The symbolism of the rose and thistle was the bride's own poetic idea. The white rose stands for York and the thistle is a reminder of her own Scotch descent.

The bridesmaid dresses will be mounted on a foundation of crepe de Chine hemmed with narrow Nottingham lace. On the narrow overskirts of the chiffon will be floating panels decorated with silver lame leaves. Long ends of chiffon will fall from pretty headresses of silver leaves fastened over the ears with silver roses.

The going-away dress of the bride will be dove gray crepe remain embroidered in dove and silver gray silk and with a complementary coat of the same material. With this she will wear a small gray hat with massed gray flowers on the crown.

Blue and Gray.

Blue and gray are the colors that predominate in the rest of the bride's trousseau. One is a suit of pale gray velvet with a loose jacket which fastens with a crystal buckle at the side. It also has a velvet waistcoat and a lace veil.

One of her afternoon gowns is a pearl gray marocain frock. The full skirt is scalloped and edged with a narrow blue ruffling.

There is a gray silk cloak to go with this and a toque of blue and gray flowers.

Another evening gown is of white georgette trimmed in her favorite blue—Betty blue—and with long wing draperies of georgette to take the place of sleeves. One of her walking suits is of rich deep brown wool marocain with high Medici collar and wide sleeves all worked with wool stitchery and accompanied by a small hat of fine brown straw trimmed with ostrich feathers.

One little frock to be worn on afternoons or semi-evening occasions is of periwinkle blue crepe remain. The petal skirt is picot edged. Four tiny tucks at either side form the bodice decorations and the belt is a narrow plait of twisted crepe, self-colored, which is tied at the back.

Lingerie is Simple.
A great deal of the bride's lingerie has been made right in her own home under the supervision of her mother, Lady Strathmore.

Most of the negligee and tea gowns are of blue, particularly "atmosphere blue" and "robin's egg blue." Some are of crepe marocain and others of crepe de Chine.

While lace predominates, white swansdown is also a favorite garniture.

There are slippers and stockings to match all the gowns, but no boudoir caps, as the bride detests them.

The underwear is ivory white or pale shell pink. Ornate decoration has been avoided. A number of nightgowns and dressing-jackets are made of ivory white satin.

One nightgown made of white crepe de Chine finished with Malines lace has been designed with a deep V neckline and long flowing sleeves.

Christians number only 172,143, of 1.95 per cent, including 125,190 Jews, 40,777 Orientals and 7,226 pagans. This leaves less than one-half of one per cent, otherwise reported.

Roman Catholics in Canada number 3,383,663, or 38.5 per cent, as against 35.45 per cent, in 1911. Anglicans number 1,407,959, or 16.02 per cent, compared with 14.47 per cent, in 1911.

Methodists throughout Canada number 1,158,744, or 13.18 per cent, of the population, against 14.98 per cent, in 1911.

Baptists number 421,730, or 4.80 per cent, compared with 5.31 per cent, in 1911.

On the date the census was taken, June 1, 1921, there were in Canada, 19,656 Mormons, 192,658 Doukhobors, 169,822 adherents of the Greek Church, 11,288 Buddhists, 27,319 Confucians and 478 Mohammedans.

Sikhs and Hindus are given as 849, and Shintos, 127. Atheists are shown as numbering 1,041; agnostics, 594, and freethinkers, 1,126.

Polish Pianist Closing Most Successful Tour

New York, April 24.—After three years' absence from the concert stage, Ignace Jan Paderewski, Polish pianist and patriot, is closing the most successful tour of his career. It is announced that Paderewski will complete his seventieth concert May 2 and his gross income for the appearances will exceed $500,000, it is said. He played his highest audience, a $24,580 house, in San Francisco on March 8.

Paderewski was reported to have expended the greater part of his fortune in the Polish cause, but his successful tour is said to have more than recouped his finances.

NOT MILITARISTIC.

Many people will be surprised to learn that it has been necessary for Sir Robert Baden-Powell to explain that the boy scout movement is not interested in discovering "material" for ultimate conversion into soldiers.

One would have thought that the popularity which the organization has established for itself in this and other parts of the world would have given the average individual only remotely in touch with its aims a fairly accurate conception of its fundamental principles. Its opponents will refer to statistics which proudly boast of the fact that so many former boy scouts and many youngsters of tender years did actual war service in one form or another. The obvious reply to even this sort of veiled charge is that all able-bodied men who valued their privileges of citizenship in the British Empire did the same thing without hesitation. Their course was dictated by certain plans which were put into operation by a gentleman who is now feeling pretty sorry for himself in Holland.

The scout movement is intended to teach the youth of the world to live well and perform obvious duties in the service of mankind as a whole. To charge it with militaristic aims is to libel its founder.

Happily the most youthful "cub" understands what is meant by playing the game. Human kind will benefit from the application of that principle by the bare-kneed youth of to-day.

GUARANTEE OF BANK DEPOSITS.

How many banks have failed in Canada since Confederation? What has been the total loss to depositors? The figures could be obtained easily enough by the Department of Finance at Ottawa. Some of the members who are interesting themselves in the revision of the Banking Act might take steps to elicit the information. Light would thereby be thrown on what many people believe to be the weakest spot in the banking system of the Dominion—the lack of an absolute guarantee of the safety of deposits.

Why should there not be such a guarantee? Why should not each bank place with the Government a sum sufficient to make its deposits safe, just as it now places with the Government a sufficient sum to make its paper money safe? On the amount thus collected a reasonable rate of interest might be paid, and arrangements could be made to have the fund immediately, though temporarily, available for the use of any institution in case of emergency.

Could any bank logically object? They are all perfectly solvent. Presumably, therefore, the fund, after having been once accumulated, would remain for an indefinite period intact. Its chief effects would be to relieve completely the minds of those having accounts, and to induce the banks to keep a usefully watchful eye on one another. The condition of the Merchants Bank, for instance, was whispered all over the country long before the Government's officials seem to have heard of it. If the other banks had felt that they might be injuriously affected, wouldn't there have been something doing?

The sums of money now kept hidden away in old socks or tin cans must total many millions. The people who follow this practice do not trust the banks. What argument can be used to turn them from their folly? When they ask if their money will be absolutely safe in the bank, the honest answer must be that it would be almost absolutely so. To which they will reply that this isn't good enough. And the argument is closed.

If deposits were in fact perfectly safe under all conditions the most ignorant man would presently get to know it and might open an account. A very appreciable increase of business would thus undoubtedly be brought about.

A great many people abuse the banks for their alleged unwillingness to extend credit. Unfortunately, a large proportion of those who indulge in this kind of talk are found, upon inquiry, to be gentlemen who can offer only dubious or shaky security. They want to borrow because their business has got into bad shape, or because they have visions of an approaching rise in the value of real estate. And they become exceedingly annoyed if the banker does not forthwith see matters in the same light. This notion that the primary duty of a bank is to carry the hopeful speculator, or the mercantile concern that has gone lame, seems to be shared by quite a number of members of Parliament, to judge by the questions they are asking in committee. They ought to know better.

Most of the money handled by bankers belongs to other people. The banker pays something for the privilege of handling it, and he of course expects to make a profit. But he has first of all to see that the sums entrusted to him are safe. Would he not be greatly assisted in this part of the task by following the suggestion here outlined? Is there, in short, anything against the proposal except the natural human tendency to shy away from a new idea, especially if it involves a little trouble?

A NATIONAL HOUSING PLAN.

Nanaimo's City Council suggests that the Dominion Government launch another national housing scheme on similar lines to that successfully operated for the benefit of returned soldiers and their dependents. It points to the experience gleaned from that experiment as sufficient to warrant a new and more comprehensive undertaking in a wider national sense.

There is plenty of merit in the proposal. As far as British Columbia is concerned the Better Housing Act, under whose provisions the plan was operated, was an outstanding success. Many municipalities would have used twice the amount of the quota allotted on a population basis if the funds could have been obtained. Victoria's experience has been no exception. The last report made on the subject by the City Council indicated that there had not been a single loss—and that payments on the various loans had been uniformly prompt.

Unfortunately the Dominion Government requires all the money that can be raised for urgent purposes. The national debt and the annual deficit on the people's railway system militate against anything that savors of the least possible risk. At the same time it should be the aim of this country to become a nation of home owners. There is nothing that contributes more towards satisfied citizenship than the pride of home possession.

Nor is it unreasonable to assume that immigration to Canada would be assisted if it were known that money could be borrowed from the public treasury for the building of homes. In any event the Nanaimo City Council's suggestion has a background of successful experience in a restricted classification.

"JIM" LARKIN MAY RETURN.

Since the field for "Jim" Larkin's activities in the Irish Free State has been considerably narrowed of late it may be assumed that permission to return to Great Britain will not be seized by this stormy petrel of radicalism as eagerly as it would have been if Governor Smith had released him from his New York prison twelve months ago.

Larkin will discover that much has taken place in Ireland since the United States Government decided that it could do without "Jim's" assistance in running the affairs of the country. If he goes to Dublin with any preconceived notion of telling President Cosgrave what he and his colleagues must do he may find that the new power in the land has a way of taking care of all interlopers from the moment they get ugly.

However, the statement made by the Home Secretary in the House of Commons to-day, informing Larkin that he is now privileged to return to Britain if he so desires, is another indication of the manner in which John Bull regards those who cause him trouble from time to time. His long suffering and capacity to forgive make it difficult for Bolshevism to thrive.

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Members of the Chamber of Commerce itself, as well as the people of this community who do a good deal of lip service in the cause of general expansion, should remember that the most active and capable executive officers depend upon the fullest possible measure of co-operation and support for reasonable success. It is fortunate for Victoria that its premier commercial organization has been well served by its officials. The term which has just closed upon the retirement of Mr. J. W. Spencer and his board of directors should furnish ample encouragement to Mr. Cross and those who will work with him in the inner councils of the Chamber for the ensuing period. There is a great deal of hard slogging ahead; but success will not be difficult to accomplish if the rank and file will continue to support those elected to authority.

NOTE AND COMMENT

If we had those sugar manipulators here we should give them a sweet five minutes.

Mr. Bonar Law says his health is improving and that he does not intend to resign. Why should he, his majority is big enough for a little while?

The usual sparring for position has already commenced at Lausanne; Turkey seems rather cold to her old French love. Does she intend to go wooing elsewhere?

According to The Daily Express Mr. Ramsay MacDonald will soon be made a Privy Councillor. But surely The Daily Herald and those gentlemen who object to the visits of their leader to Buckingham Palace will look askance at the handle which Mr. MacDonald will be able to use when the compliment has been paid to him.

It is pleasant for British peoples to know that President Harding is in favor of the United States joining the International Court of Justice. But we cannot help thinking that he will have quite a difficult job to convince the anti-Leagueurs that it would not simplify his country's entry into the larger organization.

OUR CONTEMPORARIES

BUT PEOPLE WILL DRINK.

The Toronto Globe:—The Providence Journal prints a cartoon depicting ships named "Canada," "Scotland," "England" and "Bahama" bombarding the United States Atlantic Coast with whisky bottles. Unfortunately there is too much truth in it. The liquor interests do not care how they bedevil international relations.

THE WOODCOCK.

The Toronto Star:—A dead woodcock has been found in North Rosedale and is reported as a "rare bird." And indeed it does now merit that description. Yet within the memory of man woodcocks were plentiful in all the damp thickets of southern Ontario. The thickets, however, have been greatly reduced in number, and this fact, together with the activities of human and feline hunters, has resulted in almost exterminating the woodcock in the Province, although it has yet to disappear completely, as did the passenger pigeon. The bird is known by its whistling flight, long back, high-set eyes and dead-leaf-colored plumage. Nesting on the ground, it trusts much to this natural camouflage, thus falling an easy prey to the domestic cat.

Other People's Views

Letters addressed to the Editor and intended for publication must be short and to the point. The longer an article is, the more likely it is to be dropped. All communications must bear the name and address of the writer, and be for publication unless the owner wishes. The publication or rejection of articles is a matter entirely in the discretion of the Editor. No responsibility is assumed by the paper for MSS. submitted to the Editor.

DAYLIGHT SAVING.

To the Editor:—The letter of Mr. H. C. Oldfield in your issue of to-day is very much to the point, and as for the city itself, when one considers that the C. P. R. and other shipping companies, the railways and the Post Office will continue to use standard time, it will easily be seen that an enormous amount of uncertainty and worry must ensue. There is much to be said about attractive tourists and facilitating business in this way to do it. I well remember one occasion when a party of men who were showing horses and cattle at the Willows came down to claim and transfer them on arrival at the rail terminus, only to find that their plans had been muddled up by the difference of times, and their remarks about the "hump" place, as they called it, were not very complimentary to Victoria and its self-sufficient policy.

A pathetic picture has been drawn of the necessity of the retailer and his employees having leisure to cultivate their gardens and indulge in health-giving sports; I suppose it would be impossible for this class to get out of bed an hour earlier, as has been the habit of men for many years, if interested in their gardens—but then attendance at the movies or dances was not a part of their daily routine.

It really looks as if the retailers (and not their heads) are buttered—and do not care if "the other fellow" has any bread at all.

A BUSINESS MAN.

Victoria, B. C., April 23, 1923.

TIMES BOOK REVIEW

Dr. John McNaughton, Professor of Latin in the University of Toronto, is writing a life of Lord Strathcona. We wonder whether he sticks to the old-fashioned, here-worshipping style of biography, represented by such a writer as John Morley in his "Life of Gladstone," or does he intend to make Strathcona as human as Lytton Strachey has made Queen Victoria? Judging by the many stories I have heard of Professor McNaughton's powers of frank criticism, he belongs by temperament at least, to the Strachey class.

Gilbert Frankau, author of "Seeds of Enlightenment" and "The Love Story," has written a book called "The Dictionary." It is a collection of words and phrases, many of them of which I have never heard. It is a very good book, and I have read it with great interest. It is a book that every one should have. It is a book that will give you a new way of looking at the world. It is a book that will give you a new way of thinking. It is a book that will give you a new way of living.

The schooner, Narwhal, left San Francisco the other day for a cruise of the South Sea. Principal cargo, typewriting machines, for practice, all of the passengers are writers. The literary vogue of the South Seas has not waned, and the stay-at-home holds Captain Traprock in the other. It is really amazing how persistent are the longings of civilized mankind for such enchantments as the South Seas writers so forthrightly "advocate" is killed by laughter, but we have feared cordially with Captain Traprock, only to turn again to the fascination of serious accounts of South Seas' journeyings.

It is with great delight that I read the news that Johnson and Boswell are soon to appear in the movies. What promises to be a really worth-while moving picture is being filmed in London. It is entitled, "The Romance of London," and will give an historical picture of various aspects of the life of the old metropolis during the last twelve centuries. One of the scenes is laid in Johnson's house in Gough Square.

Lord Morley has announced that he will bequeath for the benefit of the women students of Manchester University, of which institution he has been Chancellor for many years, what he calls his "modest handful of books." "I would fain hope," he writes of these dedicated books, "that generations of new readers may find in them the same genial, instructive, fortifying comrades that they for a lifetime have been to me, and still are."

Dean Ingle has been lifted out of his prevailing dreary mood by reading "Men Like Gods," by Mr. H. G. Wells. He calls this book a brilliant success. "Wells has returned," says the delighted Dean, "to the theme of my old favorite, 'The Time Machine,' encouraged, it seems, by Einstein's theories, which for all I know may make anything possible, since I wasted a week in an entirely vain attempt to understand them. Mr. Wells has never, I think, written better than in this book, though I wish he would drop those irritating three dots at the end of his sentences."

MANITOBA BOWLING AND BILLIARD TAX PLAN IS DROPPED

Winnipeg, April 24.—It was announced in the Manitoba Legislature last night by Hon. H. D. Macleod, Provincial Secretary, that the Government intended to withdraw the proposed tax on bowling and billiards. The bill consolidating the Public Amusements Act was given second reading, though opposition was expressed by F. J. Dixon, Labor leader, who remarked it was peculiar that a puritanical Government should wish to take any of the proceeds of horse racing.

DUNDEE SCORES WIN

Toronto, April 24.—Johnny Dundee, junior lightweight champion of the world, was awarded the decision in 12 rounds of boxing with Gene Delmont, of Memphis, here last night. The bout was far from being a high-class exhibition of boxing. Dundee seemed content to shade his opponent.

RUSSIAN OIL EXPORT MONOPOLY

Royal Dutch Shell Group Given Concession

Result of Purchase of Oil From Soviet

London, April 24.—As a result of the purchase of 200,000 tons of oil from the Russian Soviet Government, the Royal Dutch Shell group has acquired a monopoly in the exportation of Russian oil for more than a year, according to a statement given to the London newspapers by a French source. The informants adds that the group invited its colleagues in the international consortium to participate in the deal, but that they refused.

ANTI-TRUST ACT VIOLATION CASE IN SAN FRANCISCO

San Francisco, April 24.—The trial of twenty-four building material contractors and ten building material corporations charged with violation of the Cartwright Anti-Trust Act, is under way here. Moses Levine, a retired butcher, was sworn in as the second alternate juror. More than a week was consumed in the selection of a jury.

MAN NEED NO LONGER DESPAIR

Body in Manchester, England, Has Something New to Help Sterner Sex

Manchester, Eng., April 24.—The Useful Women, an organization which is a sort of league of fairy godmothers, has started operations here. Under the guidance, bachelors requiring wives, elderly gentlemen looking for someone with whom to discuss politics, brides needing advice about the trousseau, or hostesses seeking "fillers" at a dinner party, will all be assisted.

Mrs. Lily, the daughter of a former Lord Mayor of Manchester, who is starting the scheme, explains that, in addition to the duties mentioned above, her "Useful Women" will be willing to mend bachelors' clothes and darn their socks; look after children; act as guides to country visitors who want to see Manchester; exercise dogs; provide players for bridge parties in emergencies; search for missing relatives; do family shopping; find, or try to find vacant houses; teach languages and read books in almost every tongue; arrange tours and do the packing.

FLAMING CROSSES COMMEMORATED CONSTABLE'S DEATH

Santa Barbara, Calif., April 29.—Three flaming crosses—one on a raft anchored outside Santa Barbara Harbor—were utilized here last night to commemorate the death of Constable Mosher, of Angewood, one year ago. Mosher was slain during a raid in Angewood which resulted in a lengthy court hearing in the Los Angeles Superior Court.

A Santa Barbara bicycle dealer, who lighted his cross in the ocean, denied he was a member of the Ku Klux Klan. He declared he was paid for doing the work by a stranger who claimed to be a representative of the Klan.

An investigation is being made by police authorities, who intimate that prosecutions for violating fire ordinances may follow.

CHIEF GUIDE INSPECTS CORPS

Lady Baden-Powell is Warmly Welcomed by Vancouver Island Girls

Lady Baden-Powell, Chief Guide, inspected the Girl Guides of Southern Vancouver Island, on the grounds of the Empress Hotel yesterday afternoon.

Lady Baden-Powell was accompanied by Mrs. Walter Nichol, Provincial Commissioner; Mrs. Kinloch, Deputy Provincial Commissioner; and Mrs. Tyrell, Vancouver Island Commissioner.

She made a thorough inspection, and then followed the march past. This was in the form of a "circular rally" which brought the Guides and Brownies at the double in circling lines by their chief. The demonstration, and at a signal from Lady Baden-Powell the girls gathered round her, sitting on the grassward, while she addressed them.

She urged the Guides to stick to the movement, which would be of great value in their future welfare.

Mrs. Tyrell, Vancouver Island Commissioner, called for three cheers for Mrs. Nichol and three for Lady Baden-Powell, which were heartily given.

The following is the order of the march past under the direction of Miss Leighton, District Captain and Captain of the 2nd Victoria Company:

1st Victoria (Camosun) Company, Miss Colby, Captain, and Miss Barff, Lieutenant; 2nd Victoria (Camosun) Company, Miss Leighton, Captain, Miss D. Sanders, Lieutenant; 3rd Victoria (James Bay) Company, Miss Cotton, Captain; Miss Leighton, Lieutenant; 4th Victoria (Gonzales) Company, Miss Hunter, Captain; Miss Stewart Williams, Lieutenant; 7th Victoria (Esquimalt) Company, Mrs. Adams, Lieutenant.

Brownie Packs: 1st Brownie Pack, Mrs. Goward; 2nd Brownie Pack, Miss Kinloch.

Country Patrols: 1st Metchoan, Miss Brown, Captain, and Miss Sprinkling, Lieutenant; 1st Sooke, Mrs. Robertson, Captain; Miss Pike, Lieutenant; Sidney, Miss Matthews, Captain.

Superintending officers included Miss Ida New, captain in charge, while out-of-town officers were Mrs. Cosens of Alberni, Miss Dwyer of Duncan, and Miss Palmer of Cowichan District.

C.P.R. SOCIAL CLUB BALL ON THURSDAY

Brings Social Season of Organization to Close

There are still a few tickets to be had for the closing ball on Thursday evening in the Empress Hotel, under the auspices of the C. P. R. Social and Athletic Club. The public is invited to this dance, irrespective of whether they had invitations to the small ball on Saturday night. Dancing commences at 9 o'clock and continues until 2 a.m. The music is under the leadership of Prof. Ozard with his seven-piece orchestra. He has gathered a musical programme which has never been heard in the city. Dress is optional. The buffet supper will be served about 11:30. Tickets can be had from the following:

C. P. R. Ticket Office, Government Street; Wharf Ticket Office; Fyvie Bros., 1000 Government Street; J. W. Phillips, Empress Hotel; F. G. Mulliner, Wharf Baggage Room; C. Griffiths, E. & N. Railway.

Miss Nora Truman, of Shanghai, and Miss Dalean of the Municipal Public Schools, Shanghai, arrived on the Empress of Canada yesterday to spend the summer with Miss Helen McNaughton, Gordon Head. Miss Truman and Miss McNaughton were associated with the Girl Guide movement in Shanghai and took part in the rally yesterday. Lady Baden-Powell on noticing that Miss Truman was without her badge, took off her own and pinned it on Miss Truman's coat.

BIG INCREASE IN GRAIN HANDLED BY C. P. R. LINES

Winnipeg, April 24.—An increase of eighty per cent. in the number of cars unloaded by grain by the Canadian Pacific Railway during the week ended April 21 as compared with the total for the corresponding week of 1922, in spite of the flooded condition of large parts of the road, and the consequent disruption of traffic is announced in a statistical report of the Department of Transportation. Grain marketed during

A Beautiful Complexion & Admiration

Ladies—A few days' treatment with CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS will do more to clean up the skin than all the beauty treatments in creation. An imperfect complexion is caused by a sluggish liver. Millions of people, old, young and middle-aged, take them for Biliousness, Dizziness, Sick Headache, Upset Stomach and for Sallow, Faded and Blotchy Skin. They end the misery of Constipation.

Small Pill—Small Dose—Small Price

The week showed an increase of fifty per cent. over last year's figures, the total being 922,472 bushels marketed, as against 602,188 bushels, making a daily average of 130,412 bushels for this year's week against 100,365 bushels, the 1922 week's average.

Cars loaded April 14 to 21, were 1,334, or an average of 222 cars per day, compared with 750 in 1922, or 125 cars per day. In store at country elevators the company reports a total of 11,184,345 bushels, with 1,860,520 bushels in the Government elevators at Moose Jaw, Saskatoon and Calgary.

From September 1 up to and including April 20, the Canadian Pacific delivered to Vancouver a total of 8,479 cars of grain, representing 12,548,320 bushels, against 2,928 cars of 4,445,848 bushels for the same period last year.

Yesterday there was approximately 800,000 bushels in store in the elevator at Vancouver, with approximately 525 cars in transit or under load.

Up to April 21 this year there was exported to the United Kingdom 12,150,000 bushels, to the Orient a total of 2,807,100 bushels, and to South America 200,400 bushels. Exportations last year up to the same date were 2,962,260 bushels to the United Kingdom and 2,984,800 bushels to the Orient.

TORONTO ACCIDENTS.

Toronto, April 23.—Six persons injured by being struck by automobiles and in automobile accidents, one man rescued from drowning and two men injured in falls, made up the week-end toll of accidents here. Two automobile drivers were arrested on charges of reckless driving.

Cease old methods—fight the film on teeth

Leading dentists the world over now give that advice. Millions of careful people in some 50 countries follow it today. You can see what it means. Note the prettier teeth in every circle now. This is to offer a ten-day test so you may see its benefits.

A world-wide crusade

This is part of a world-wide crusade for whiter, cleaner, safer teeth. Film is the great tooth enemy—that viscous film you feel. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. Food stains, etc., discolor it. Then it forms dingy coats. Tartar is based on film. That's why beautiful teeth were seen less often than now. Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. That's why few escaped tooth troubles.

Germs breed by millions in film. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea—so alarmingly common now.

Old ways did not successfully combat it

No ordinary tooth paste effectively fights film. So nearly every body suffered from some film attack.

Then dental science searched for film combatants, and eventually found two. One acts to curdle film, one to remove it, and without any harmful scouring. Able authorities proved these methods by many careful tests. Then a new-type tooth paste was created, based on modern research. These two new film destroyers were embodied in it.

That tooth paste is called Pepsodent. Now it has come into world-wide use, largely through dental advice.

Greater protection

Pepsodent also leads to greater protection. It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to neutralize mouth acids, the cause of tooth decay. It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits which may otherwise ferment and form acids.

In all these ways, Pepsodent is fast bringing a new dental era.

You will be amazed

Pepsodent results will amaze and delight you. In a week you will realize how much it means to all.

Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear. You will want those benefits for you and yours as long as you live, when you know. Cut out coupon now.

Avoid Harmful Grit

Pepsodent curdles the film and removes it without harmful scouring. Its polishing agent is far softer than enamel. Never use a film combatant which contains harsh grit.

FIVE THOUSAND IN ATTENDANCE AT ARENA RINK

Dr. Price Conducts Another Healing Service; Prayer for 45 Children

Five thousand people witnessed forty-five children, who were prayed for, receive the touch of God. "This is the first failure I have had this evening," said Rev. Dr. Price, when he had finished praying for the forty-fifth person to come to the stage.

The cause of this was not the lack of faith in the child but the disturbance created in the audience by people getting up from the seats, and making their way from the building. Quite a noise and atmosphere of unrest is the result of the forty-fifth exodus just about 10 o'clock at night, and the feeling of unrest pervades the atmosphere of the platform so that concentration and prayer is hard to give, both on the part of the one being prayed for, and by the evangelist.

Sixty children were to have been prayed for last night, and it was probably that they had been reached had it not been for the number of people who regardless of the disturbance they were making wended their way homeward. Nearly twenty disappointed children were told to come to the afternoon service to-day on this account.

Instant Cures.

Among the forty-five children who came to the stage two of them were instantly cured, said Dr. Price. The first one was a deaf boy whose ears were stopped. He was prayed for, and following the prayer said he could hear. Stepping further away from the crowd every time he spoke to him Dr. Price said "Say Praise the Lord" and the boy repeated the words even when the evangelist had reached the other end of the stage. Another boy was also apparently similarly touched by God's power. A case of a stiff foot was also partially cured. The child had been prayed for, and while passing the press table demonstrated to representatives the partial cure which he had received. He said that he would regain full use of his foot.

Organs Replaced.

"I received a letter from the disabled and wounded soldiers at the hospital to-day," said Dr. Price, while going through the list of cards. "They are asking if disabled and shell-shock or gun-shocked soldiers can be cured also. They certainly can," was Dr. Price's answer. "I am confident that I shall meet many of the lads that went overseas on my transcontinental tour through Canada, and I shall be only too glad to pray for them. There is no reason why they cannot be cured. As long as they have faith that the Lord Jesus Christ will cure them they will be touched by the power of God and be healed," the evangelist said. "Why I've even had cases where flesh has been returned to the body," asserted the speaker.

"One woman that I prayed for even had the organs of her body returned," stated Dr. Price. Doctors had operated on her for some malady, and had taken some of the organs away. "She came to my meetings, and was prayed for. She was touched by the

MASS MEETING OF CHINESE TO BE HELD

With the desire to reach as many people as possible Rev. Dr. C. S. Price, evangelist, will hold a mass meeting to-night, and deliver an address to a mass meeting of Chinese at the Chinese Theatre, following the usual service at the Arena. No one but Chinese will be allowed at this meeting, it was intimated.

power of God and healed," the speaker continued. "The lost organs had come back to the body," he stated. "The doctors examined her afterward, and declared it true."

Special Cases.

Cases of special interest were two paralyzed children. One was that of an orphan, having lost his mother only eighteen months ago. He is living with his sister. He is a pleasant boy, and won the hearts of many of his associates. Both his legs were in steel frames, and he had to be carried to the stage. He had been treated in different ways to see if he could be cured. The janitor of the Burnside school, a kindly gentleman, had taken an interest in the child and saved up some $75 with which to buy an electric blanket but to no avail.

He was prayed for last night, and no sooner had Dr. Price finished his prayer in which he commended the child to Jesus Christ to take the affliction from his body than the child fell to the platform vibrating through all his limbs with the power of God. He remained on the floor for an hour, his little body quivering. Dr. Price informed The Times that already the blood was surging through the useless limbs, his legs were not cold, and clanny as before, but were now becoming warm. A little while after this the child commenced to move his legs. Before the crowd had dispersed he sat up in answer to some questions stated that he could even move his toes.

Had Faith.

So great was the faith of one fourteen-year-old girl that she had attended every meeting that Dr. Price held since his arrival in the city. She was not in a hurry to get a card as she wished others to be healed. Then she was given a card, but not before she had had faith enough to remove one of the steel frames in which her little limbs were supported. She came to the platform and was prayed for. Dr. Price turned to one of his workers and said to her "Here is a real case. You can already feel the power of God." She quivered through every limb following the prayer, and her parents are confident that she will walk without her crutches while Dr. Price pronounced her healed.

Local Committee.

"There are many cases where price is not instantly cured," Dr. Price asserted, "but give them a few months, and they will be well." A local committee will be appointed. It was intimated, to watch these cases so that announcements can be made of their complete recovery. A girl who came to the stage last night was not instantly cured, but received a partial healing. Her tongue clove to the roof of her mouth when she talked, and she was also afflicted with a spinal trouble which affected the use of her arms. Already she can talk a little, while the use of her arms is gradually returning to her.

TELLS PURPOSE OF GIRL GUIDES

the purpose of making them into soldiers, but to make them into men. The plan was non-military, non-political and undenominational. Within a few months of the time when his book was put on the market the Scout movement had spread in all directions, self-organized and without finances, but full of enthusiasm for the game because of the desire of the boys to train themselves.

How It Grew

"If the Boy Scout movement grew out of my husband's brain," said Lady Baden-Powell, "the Girl Guide movement had to come of itself. It really started when our girls began trying on their brothers' hats and equipment and imitating them by running around the countryside and making pests of themselves. It showed us that there was a real need for the movement and so far-seeing women took it up and organized companies."

Lady Baden-Powell told an amusing incident of the formation of the movement. Sir Robert, she said, talked the idea over with the King Edward and the King suggested that he copyright the idea for the British Empire. Sir Robert laughed, saying that it was such a British thing that no one else would take it up.

Sisterhood of Guides

After some years in the experimental stage, the Guide movement received its charter in 1915, and is now found in every part of the Empire. Like the Scouts, they are non-political and undenominational. There is no recognition of "class," but everybody in it meets on an equal footing. This is one of the great values of the uniform. It emphasizes the sisterhood of the movement and teaches self-respect. The uniform is found

Strictly Undenominational

As it was not denominational, the movement formed a platform on which all could meet. In India last year she found gathered under its standard Mohammedans, Hindus, Parsis, Jews and Christians. In England the various women's organizations had made a special department for it in their work. In Canada the I.O.D.E. last year, affiliated with the Guides, she had met their regents everywhere she had visited in this country, and they had almost unanimously undertaken to form Guide chapters, and it would be taken up at the Quebec conference in June. Like the Scouts, it had become an international movement.

Lady Baden-Powell pointed out that the child who became a Guide must not be expected to become an angel and sprout a pair of wings on the first day. The magic took time in order to exert its influence on character. It provided the influence which the busy mother often had not time to exercise. It gave the right environment outside the home.

The Guide movement had been valuable in the teaching of handicrafts among girls, including cooking, sewing and nursing. The awarding of badges had been questioned by some critics, but such badges served at any rate to show that the girl had pluck and energy to stick to her task. In the matter of health, she had not got at the basis of the trouble by instituting preventive work. The method of inculcating the principle of service was to tell the Guide that she was expected to do a good turn to someone every day, and thus the idea was gradually absorbed.

The Guides to-day number 475,000 and were growing at the rate of 100,000 a year.

First the Girl

In conclusion, Lady Baden-Powell urged the women present to back the Guide movement because they believed in it. "Half of the present day social evils are preventable," she said. "It is too late to do anything for the adults—we have got to think of the children and keep the vision before us, first the girl, then the Empire."

Mrs. Jenkins in a charming little speech thanked the Chief Guide for the inspiration of her address, and as the "youngest" member of the club presented Lady Baden-Powell with a lovely basket of pink roses and snapdragons.

Mrs. Hyndman announced that the next meeting of the Club, to be held on Tuesday, May 1, would be open to the public at a small admission fee in order to permit the interested public to hear Miss Helen Stewart's report of the recent meeting of the National Council on Education.

SAYS INDIANS ARE SUFFERING

In Commons Forke Appeals for Aborigines in Manitoba

OTTAWA, April 24.—When the estimates of the Department of Indian Affairs were taken up in the House last night, Robert Forke, Progressive leader, called the Government's attention to what he described as the deplorable condition of Indians on the Manitoba reserves, why he declared, seemed to be slowly starving to death. Much of this was charged to too much red tape at Ottawa. He asked the Government to take action in behalf of the Indians, who were without live stock and implements and unable to provide for themselves. The agents should be more than mere official machines, he said. They should be required to father and advise these wards of the Government.

New York State put a limit of 25,000 pounds gross weight for motor vehicles.

Increased Accommodation at Jasper Park Lodge

Open This Season, June 1 to September 30; Many Reservations Made; Alberta and B. C. Press Associations Meet There In June

Jasper Park Lodge, the hostelry which the Canadian National Railways has created in an Alpine setting in the heart of Jasper National Park, will be open for the reception of guests this season from June 1 to September 30. Many reservations have been made at this early date, among which are the Albert and British Columbia Press Association, which will hold their 1923 convention at the Lodge June 7, 8 and 9.

Last year the Canadian National Railways inaugurated a series of camps, three miles from Jasper Station, which proved so popular to visitors to Jasper National Park that increased accommodation for 1923 became imperative. The enlarged capacity provides for 250 guests and includes a main lodge, containing a large lounge, dining-room and ballroom, billiard-room, barber shop, shower bath, ten bedrooms, all connected with private bath, and all modern conveniences.

A wide verandah encircles the lounge and dining-room, commanding a panoramic view of Lac Beauvert and its magnificent Alpine surroundings; eighteen, four-room lodges, containing two rooms with two single beds each, two rooms with double bed, sitting room and bathroom; three two-suite lodges, each suite comprising bed-sitting room, dressing room, bathroom and sleeping porch; two twelve-room buildings containing twelve single rooms with one single bed each; bathrooms and toilet accommodation. All lodges are of log construction, with verandahs, rustic and harmonious, fittingly furnished and electric lighted and steam heated, each bedroom being supplied with running hot and cold water.

"BLUE SKY" BILL MEETS OPPOSITION

H. H. Dewart Fights Clause of Measure in Ontario Legislature

Toronto, April 24.—For two hours last night Attorney-General Haney struggled in committee of the Legislature with his Ontario "blue sky" bill, and finally, interpreting the vigorous opposition of H. H. Dewart, K.C., as an intention to talk the bill out, he withdrew it for the night. The rest of the session may see the Attorney-General and Mr. Dewart playing a game of wretched waiting—the Attorney-General waiting for an opportunity to get his bill through when Mr. Dewart is not present.

The clause upon which the Attorney-General and Mr. Dewart came to grips was that to give absolute protection to the commissioner for any act of his which might work injury to a concern or individual, and also to give protection to complainants.

"Just a word," said the lawyer to his fair client.

"Yes."

"If your husband asks for the custody of the people don't try to win the sympathy of the court by weeping and calling the—er—little animal your 'precious darling.'"

"Why not?"

"The judge has ten children, and he's proud of it."

"I Can Now Do My Work Without Feeling Tired"

"I suffered from a run-down system and nervous debility. I could not sleep or rest at night, and felt so weak I could not walk any distance. I took several tonics, but they only helped me while I was taking them. Mother advised me to take Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and I felt great benefit from the first box, and continued taking several boxes. ### HART BATTERIES GREAT VALUE IN COMMERCIAL LIFE

"Proved in the great war" is a badge of merit for those mechanical devices which served so valiantly to support human heroism in the great war. It was during the years of the war that the great test came for Hart Batteries, which for thirty years had given unwavering service in civil and commercial life.

But when war's dread alarm had come, a prayer must have gone up that old England's machinery would be as staunch as her men.

Things are built right in Britain, and it was a glorious day for Hart Batteries and the traditions of devotion and scientific perfection behind Hart Batteries.

Hart Batteries went into the British submarine, the destroyer and almost every type of vessel in the British navy.

Hart Batteries went into the air service, into the signal, railway, telegraph and railway service.

The fate of armies, the decision in important battles, the whole system of communication, and the safety of the navy depended time and time again upon dependable apparatus—and a vital part was played by the electrical battery—notably Hart Batteries.

Canadians have known and used Hart Batteries for nine years, through the manufacture and distribution from the factory of the Hart Battery Company at St. John's, Que. It was built to carry this all-British battery to Canada, and the business has been expanding constantly as Canadians came to know the Hart Battery as a wonderfully reliable battery for winter, and a battery of consistent performance during summer.

The Hart Canadian organization comprises more than 800 Hart Battery Service Stations in Canada.

BODY OF GEORGE MORAES FOUND ON WHALE BEACH

Was Mate of Lost Steamer
Alaskan; Widow Faced by Problem

A partly decomposed body found on Whale Beach near Pachena Point has been identified as the remains of George Moraes, who shipped as mate of the ill-fated steamer Alaskan, lost off the west coast of Vancouver Island on January 2 last.

The Provincial Police were informed during the week-end through L. A. Hanna, coroner at Port Alberni, of the finding of the body. Identification was made through papers found on the body. Mrs. Moraes, who resides at 335 Johnson Street, was promptly notified by the Provincial Police of the finding of her late husband's remains.

The Port Alberni coroner stated in his report that the body had been buried on the beach where found, but that it could be moved in good weather.

Mrs. Moraes is anxious to have the body brought to Victoria for burial, but as she is in needy circumstances the cost of such an undertaking is prohibitive.

Large Family.

There are six children in the family of the late George Moraes. Mrs. Moraes has received monetary aid from the G. W. V. A. and fraternal organizations, but this has been exhausted in providing support for her children. The late Mr. Moraes was in the 38th Forestry Battalion during the war. The Returned Soldiers' Commission has offered to bear the cost of bringing the body down from Pachena Point. The cost of burial in the great problem now confronting Mrs. Moraes, who, naturally, is most anxious that the remains of her husband be brought to Victoria for interment.

AMERICAN OWNERS ANSWER STRIKE CALL BY UNION

Wage Scale to Be Same As That in Effect on U.S. Shipping Board Vessels

New York, April 24.—The American Steamship Owners' Association yesterday answered a strike call issued by the Seamen's Union and the I. W. W. marine organization by the announcement that the wage scale on all ships owned by members of the Association will be, beginning yesterday, the same as that in effect on Shipping Board vessels.

Action was taken at a special meeting of the Association at which members were urged to adhere to the wage scale until it is changed at a regular conference with a representative of the Shipping Board.

The appeal for a general marine strike on Wednesday was sent out in circulars issued by the Marine Transport Workers' Industrial Union No. 150 of the Industrial Workers of the World. At the same time the International Seamen's Union of America distributed circulars calling the attention of sailors to new wage demands and set May 2 as a date for their walkout if the demands were not met.

The new wage on a monthly scale demanded by the Union were: Carpenters, $35; boatstewards, $30; able-bodied seamen, $20; ordinary seamen, $15; others, $30; firemen, $25; coal passers and wipers, $15. The association's scale is almost in every case, $15 less.

Other Demands.

Boston, April 24.—Coinciding with the announcement to-day by shipping men that a wage increase would be granted May 1 to the unlicensed personnel of American steamers sailing from this port, the International Seamen's Union, with headquarters here, let it be known that it would present to shipowners at once to become effective May 1, a set of demands embodying substantial wage increases and important changes in working conditions.

The Union has renewed its demand of several years ago that ship workers be granted an eight-hour day and that the deck watch be divided into three periods instead of the present two. These two issues were factors in the seamen's strike of 1919.

Shipowners said last night that the two-watch system, in vogue from time immemorial, would be retained at all costs.

While the amount of the wage increases announced yesterday affecting four thousand sailors, firemen and mess boys, was not made public, shipowners said they were far below the demands of the union.

Alexander

Seattle, April 24.—The arrival of the steamship Dorothy Alexander in San Francisco to-day will mark the transfer of the command of that vessel from Capt. Thomas H. Cann, present commander, to Capt. G. A. Harris, of the Admiral Schley. Capt. Cann will take charge of the Admiral Schley and bring her to Seattle, where he will relinquish the command of that vessel to Capt. J. H. A. Gries, present first officer of the steamship Admiral Flske. The vessels all are in the service of the Admiral Line.

With about 200 tons of cargo for Seattle, and a similar amount for Tacoma, the Dutch steamship Moerdyk last night for Tacoma. While here the Moerdyk loaded 200 tons of canned goods and 35 tons of frozen berries for North European ports. At Tacoma she will load flour and lumber.

CAPT. J. TURNBULL ON MONTCLAIR

Skipper of C.P.R. Ship Has an Excellent Record

When the new S.S. Montclair, 17,100 tons, of the Canadian Pacific trans-Atlantic fleet docks at Quebec May 12 from Liverpool on her maiden voyage she will be in command of Captain J. Turnbull, O.B.E., R.D., R.N.R., one of the most popular skippers of the Atlantic service, whose appointment is announced in a cablegram received to-day at the office of the Canadian Pacific Steamships Limited.

Captain J. Turnbull was born October 15, 1864, and began his career at the age of twenty-three with the Elder-Dempster Co. When this shipping concern was taken over by the Canadian Pacific in 1903 Capt. Turnbull continued his services under the new management and was promoted to the command of the rank on board the S.S. Montclair May 1911. At the outbreak of hostilities Capt. Turnbull was on the bridge of the Empress of Britain, continuing to serve on this liner when it was requisitioned by the Admiralty as a troopship. In recognition of his services he was made a member of the Order of the British Empire. Capt. Turnbull is also a member of the Royal Naval Reserve.

Captain Turnbull served on various ships of the Canadian Pacific fleet, amongst which are the Montcalm, Mount Royal, Grampian, Metagama, Empress of Britain and Metheun, making hosts of friends in various ports of the world, who will be glad to hear that he has been chosen to be in charge of one of the finest liners of the company.

The addition of the new S.S. Montclair to the fleet of the Canadian Pacific "Mono" class trans-Atlantic service will feature an important development in ship craft as, on her arrival at Quebec on May 12, she will have the distinction of being the largest one class cabin ship to arrive or leave Canadian ports.

to arrive or leave Canadian ports and also the largest of her class in the trans-Atlantic service.

Captain Edwin Landy, previously commanding officer on the Bolingbroke, is succeeding Captain Turnbull on the Metheun. He served on the following Canadian Pacific ships: Montfort, Lake Michigan, Lake Champlain, Lake Manitoba, Methven, Pretoria, Empress of Britain, Metagama, Monmouth and Bolingbroke.

During the war, while in command of the Monmouth, he performed a conspicuous act of gallantry in bringing the ship to port after she had been torpedoed by the Germans on her way to a French port with a valuable cargo.

OPIMUM SEIZURE ON SS. M'KINLEY

Was Found by Customs Officers
Cached Beneath Floor
of Cabin

Seattle, April 24.—Seventy-five tons of opium, each containing five tons of opium, were seized by customs officers on the steamship President McKinley, of the Admiral Oriental Line, following arrival from the Far East. The opium was in a receptacle made by cutting a hole in the floor of a second-class cabin.

The opium was found after customs inspectors had searched the vessel six hours. Some liquor and pearls were also discovered.

BARQUENTINE WAS SLIGHTLY DAMAGED

Port Angeles, Wash., April 24.—The barquentine Mary Winkelman, was slightly damaged in collision off Clallam Bay with the oil tanker La Purisima. It was learned when the Winkelman arrived here in tow of the coastguard cutter Sphonomish. The vessel's bowsprit was carried away, her forward rigging wrecked and held. The La Purisima was undamaged and proceeded to sea. Members of the Winkelman's crew were unable to explain the accident which occurred, they said, at a time when the night was clear and the sea calm.

LOUISE WILL CARRY HER CAPACITY LOAD

Tickets for Bellingham Trip
Expected to Be Sold Out
Early

Great interest is being evinced in the forthcoming excursion to Bellingham in connection with the annual Tulip Festival which will be held at the American city on May 11 next.

The steamship Princess Louise, the newest and largest coastwise passenger carrier operated by the Canadian Pacific Railway, has been selected to make the pleasure cruise. The vessel was picked for her roominess and passenger capacity. The wide promenade decks of the ship will be greatly appreciated by the excursionists.

Tickets for the Bellingham excursion are now on sale at the Canadian Pacific offices. In view of the demand and the popularity of the steamer the tickets will probably soon be sold out.

The Princess Louise had just been completed and put into commission when she made the trip to Bellingham last year.

On that occasion all the tickets were sold before the excursion and hundreds of people were disappointed at not being able to make the trip.

The same condition is expected to prevail this year, and those who anticipate going, the company officials say, would be well-advised to make their booking early.

ALASKA RAILROAD TO BEAUTIFY BRIDGE AT TANANA RIVER

Fairbanks, Alaska, April 24.—The Alaska Railroad will spend $10,000 this summer beautifying the approaches to its bridge over the Tanana River in this city. It was announced following a conference of Major J. C. Gotsch, vice-chairman of the Alaska Railroad and Engineering Commission, with the executive committee of the Fairbanks Commercial Club. The committee agreed to see that a block of buildings at the Garden Island end of the bridge was constructed.

Major Gotsch promised that a station two stories high would be erected and a park established at the end of the bridge farthest from the station. The park is to have driveways, curbs and parking places.

The club has decided to have a plot of land at the end of the bridge.

CALIFORNIA WAS LAUNCHED ON CLYDE

Third New Oil-burning Passenger Liner Completing for Anchor Line

The steamship California, third of the Anchor Line's new oil burners, was successfully launched April 15. She is similar in construction to the same lines Cameronia and Tuscania, and will be completed on the same plans. Her dimensions are: 114 feet in length; 70 feet moulded breadth, and 42.9 feet moulded depth. She will be of about 17,000 tons. Like her sister ships, she has a straight stem and cruiser stern, two steel pole masts and one funnel; no more being needed on an oil burner. She will carry three classes of passengers, and will have, when completed, accommodation for 300 first, 300 second and 1,100 third class passengers.

MUCH CANADIAN GRAIN SHIPPED FROM U. S. PORTS

Taking the Roof of Canada.

The glacial rockies as a movie location.

"AND just then," said Otto Paul Schwarz, of Switzerland, in describing a trip in the Canadian Pacific Rockies. "we saw a huge Bergschlund."

"And did it bark at you?" he was asked. "Or do they bleat?"

"Ach, no. A bergschlund is not a bird. It is a huge crevasse where the ice has slipped down the rock wall and cracked. The next stumbling block we came to was a chimney. This is a hard business. It means bracing your back against one wall and your feet against the other and doing what you call on this side 'the shimmy' till you get to the top. Iceless fifteen feet long hung above us."

It is a great life, this one of mountain climbing, especially higher up where the glaciers are. Imagine a river of ice with a depth of something like 1,000 feet. Great crevasses reach down, it seems, to the bowels of the earth, peaks and minarets rise from its uneven surface and glisten in the sun which can never warm them; a giant green-white force, irresistible, stupendous, with an alluring fascination which the lovers of the outdoors cannot deny.

The picture above was taken on the "roof of Canada" near Banff, and the huge glacier which the party is traversing will, in years, perhaps, help to make fertile the prairie plains. Travelling at the rate of about four inches each day, nothing can withhold it, but another generation of sightseers will have come and gone before the ice on which the climbers stand will have found its way down to the warmer valleys where it will melt; and in the meantime, snow from the even higher peaks will press and pack and so, so far as the present day world is concerned, the life of this wonderful natural force is without end.

NEWS IN BRIEF

A meeting of the Ward Two Liberals will be held at the Liberal headquarters, Government Street to-night at 8 o'clock.

A roof blaze at 406 Vancouver Street, at 10.05 this morning gave the department the second run of the day. The damage was slight.

Fire at 9.30 this morning singed
the roof of a building at 320 Fort Street, the flames being quelled by the fire brigade after a few minutes' work. The damage is slight.

The proposal of the Chamber of Commerce that the city hold reverted lands until it can sell them for their assessed value was referred to the Reverted Lands Committee by the City Council last night.

The Triangle Club of the Y. M. C.
A. will hold their closing banquet commencing at 6.15 o'clock to-night.
An entertaining programme, reports and an address by Harold Cross will comprise the events of the evening.

A Spanish float will be entered in the Maytime Frolic parade, the Council last night appropriating $15 for that purpose after the reading of an invitation from Mayor Hayward to take part in the demonstration.

A big boys' jamboree is being arranged by the local Y. M. C. A. and will be the closing event of the season. The event will take place on May 4 and end May 5. Several hundred tickets have been sold already.

All members of the Fifteenth Overseas Brigade Association are requested to attend a meeting to be held in the Y.M.C.A. to-morrow evening at eight o'clock for the purpose of making arrangements for the annual reunion.

The regular meeting of the Esquimalt School Board will be held this evening in the Lamson Street
School, commencing at 8 o'clock.
Chairman E. Mantrou will preside.
The Esquimalt High School is likely to be the centre of the debate this evening, it is understood.

Five flowers on one stalk on the beautiful wild lily were found both at the intersection of the market street at that address and Margaret Rich, 1035 Victoria Avenue, Oak Bay at Cowan and Redfern Street, yesterday.
The flowers were large ones. It is very unusual to find a lily with five blooms on one stalk.

The employed boys section of the Y. M. C. A. held their annual closing season's banquet last night at the association building. Discussion of the summer plans was held it being proposed to hold a week-end camp at Beaver Lake on May 12. Toasts were made and also short addresses.
Very enjoyable time was had by all.

Sanich will oppose the application of Capt. L. B. Babington for extensive foreshore rights at Moodyville on Sanich Arm, the Council decided last night. Reeve Watson brought the application to the attention of the Council, with the remark that the public's rights in foreshore matters has been too long disregarded and should receive greater attention.

The Victoria Women's Institute held a most enjoyable 500 game in their rooms on Saturday evening. The prize-winners were—as follows:
Ladies first Mrs. C. H. C. E. E. E.
Terry; gent's, first, Mr. Stewart;
second, Mr. Taylor. Consolation prizes were given to Miss Hughes and Mrs. C. H. C. E. E. E. The game will be held on Saturday, May 5.

Mrs. Watkins made an appeal to the members of the Kiwanis Club to support Queen nominated by Kumtuka for the Maytime Frolic, seeing that Kiwanis itself has decided not to enter anybody in the contest. She added that the percentage which Kumtuka would get, would go to the work of the club. At the conclusion of the appeal, the radio to-night would carry her appeal and she asked everybody to listen in. The address will be broadcasted at 7.45 over radio number C. H. C. E. E. on Western Radio Station.

The Sanich Council last night went formally on record, by a 5-3 vote, as being opposed to daylight saving. Councillors Brooks and Vantreigh introduced the resolution and were supported by Councillors Lehman, Simpson and Kirkham. Councillor Macneil pointed out that the urban districts favored time change and Sanich would be compelled by business association with Victoria to fall in line with city time. He said that time-saving resulted in important economies to the majority of the people. Councillor Shaw completed the minority opposing the resolution.

The Victoria Fire Department is asking the co-operation of owners in connection with abandoned buildings and out-buildings. These, it is said, have been the cause of many fires
during the year past and are a constant fire hazard endangering more valuable property nearby. If the building is of value and abandoned merely temporarily, the doors and windows should be nailed up. If of no value the structure should be torn down and removed. Fire Chiefs in every B. C. municipality are given until the end of this month to see that all owners have been warned of fire hazards now existing. At the end of that period the heads of the various fire brigades are to be held responsible for any condition of neglect found, orders issued by the Fire Marshal state.

The similarity between models of the same make of motor car led to an amusing incident yesterday when T. W. Smith, 632 Pembroke Street stepped into a touring car at the City Hall and drove off. Mr. Smith, who had just called at the city's offices, to pay his water bill, noticed that the car was not behaving well. In fact it was refractory to such an extent that he drove it straight to the local agents of the maker, the National Motor Company, where he turned the car over to the responsible men. In a few moments word came from the city police that Mr. Smith had removed a vehicle belonging to Dr.

Arthur G. Price, City Health Officer.
For a moment Dr. Price was under the impression he had been robbed by a thief, but matters were straightened out by the explanation of Mr.
Smith, and all laughed again.

WILL BOTH SPEAK AT PUBLIC MEETING

Lieut. General Sir Robert
Baden-Powell and Lady Baden-Powell will both speak this evening at the public meeting at First Presbyterian Church, Quadra Street, at 8.15 o'clock. The gathering will be under the auspices of the National Council of Education.
The topic of their addresses will be the value of the Boy Scout and Girl Guide movements in the building of character and as adjustments to general education.
Tickets are free, and may be obtained at Fletcher's Music Store.

ELECTORS MAY VOTE ON SALE OF CITY LAND

Council Has No Right to Hold
Property Without Mandate, Says Dewar

Victoria ratepayers may vote on the Chamber of Commerce proposal that reverted lands be held by the city until they can be sold for their assessed value, if City Council opponents of this idea have their way. The Council is pretty evenly divided on the scheme, it has developed, and Alderman Robert Dewar, Chairman of the Reverted Lands Committee, will fight the proposal to the last ditch.

"The Council has no right to hold that land without consulting the electors," Alderman Dewar declared today. "I believe myself that a majority of people would favor the sale of every lot possible so as to make all this reverted land revenue producing as soon as possible. I do not believe that holding this land would do any real good in any case."

Long before the Chamber of Commerce proposed that reverted lands be withheld from sale some Council members were talking over the same idea, it developed to-day. Several of the members are favorable to the scheme, it was learned.

At yesterday afternoon's meeting of the finance committee W. H. Mac-Innes, Civil Service Commissioner, was present and explained in exhaustive detail the superannuation scheme now in force in the provincial civil service. He showed the city exactly what it would cost to install the system in the City Hall.
The system, it was pointed out to the aldermen, it would be possible for the city to provide immediately for pensions for old employees who retire during the next few years.

The annual cost of providing pensions for employees in the City Hall department would be $18,000, according to figures prepared by Alderman David Leeming, chairman of the finance committee. The cost would be required each year to provide pensions for teachers if the School Board decided to install the superannuation system but sentiment
now in force has changed, until now a majority of aldermen are believed to be in support of the idea.

The amount of wages due to the crew of the S.S. City of Vancouver was the subject of a brief appearance in the City Police Court to-day when W. A. Maclean, K.C., on behalf of Earl Keen, a member of the crew of the vessel took proceedings against the master of the City of Vancouver, Captain Elton, for wages due. The case, explained Mr. Maclean, was a test one affecting some 25 members of the crew.

Frank Higgins, K.C., on behalf of the owners, explained that there had been a strike at Newcastle in Australia, and the crew taking part in the lay-off had been docked the wages they did not earn, about $13.42 apiece. This sum, said Mr. Higgins, the owners of the vessel were willing to pay over now if the men understood that the owners could not hold it legally and paid merely out of generosity. To Magistrate Jay both parties expressed themselves as satisfied with the settlement and the proceedings were withdrawn from the purview of the Court.

Golfers Tuning Up For British Amateur Title

Sixteen Americans Will Play at Deal in a Tournament Which Opens on May 7—Dr. Willing and Jack Neville Who Played Here Last Summer on Team—Draw Is Announced

London, April 24.—The vanguard of the American golfing expedition of 1923—amateurs who have crossed the Atlantic to give the English players a chance at the Walker Cup on their home grounds—arrived yesterday. They found the game's ancestral homeland less pessimistic regarding the chances for victory in the approaching battle with the Americans, the first of which will take place at Ryde next Saturday.

Fourteen Americans who have just come across seas and two well-known American residents in London are entered for the amateur golf championship play which will start May 7 on the links of the Royal Cinque Ports Club at Deal.

Willing Gets a Bye
The entries have closed, and the only American who has drawn a bye is Dr. O. P. Willing, of Portland, Ore., who in the second round will oppose Robert Grant, Jr., an American living in London. Dr. Willing also is the only visiting American to fall into the first quarter of the draw, which includes three strong British players, Roger Wethered, the Hon. Michael Scott and W. R. Torrance.

In the next section John F. Neville, of San Francisco, will meet Vincent MacLennan, Francis Outlet will oppose Arnold Reid, of Huntingdale, Reginald Leads, of the Connecticut state champion, is paired with Leslie Schon, a noted local player, H. S. Lake, of Hartford, Conn., will pit his skill against Robert Hunter, of Clarendon, Cal., George V. Rolan, of Houston, Texas, is drawn with J. A. Board, Home Park, and Guy M. Standfield, of Columbia, Wash., with H. E. Lebar and J. H. Heath. This section also includes Cyril Trolley, Allen Graham and Major Henry Boyd, the British army champion.

Champion in Third Quarter
E. W. Holderness, the next British champion, falls in the next section. H. E. Holden, Robert Gardiner, E. N. Layton, noted international player of the Royal Cinque Ports Club, Wilson, a former American champion, schoolmaster, Mr. Gillies, of New Zealand, and W. A. Murray, Scottish international player, are well-known British players in the section. Among the prominent United States players in the section are Robert Gardiner, Jesse Swain, of the United States team, F. J. Wright, of Los Angeles, and H. R. Johnson, of St. Paul.

In the last quarter, J. D. Beddard, South Staffordshire, who has often been a midland champion, and Geoffrey McCallum, a wonderful boy golfer, of Seaford-on-Thames, are the most noted.

Victorians will follow the British amateur golf championship with considerable interest, owing to the fact that several players who performed here last summer in the Pacific Northwest, amateur and open golf championships will participate in the qualifying round of the P.N.W. tournament, while Jack Neville played the gallery some flashy golf.

BOB ROPER CLAIMS HE HAS BEEN SIGNED FOR BOUT WITH DEMPSEY

Omaha, Neb., April 24.—Bob Roper, heavyweight champion contender, declared here yesterday that he had tentatively signed up with Chicago promoters to meet Jack Dempsey in a ten-round no-decision bout at Chicago in the near future.

Roper will meet Tim Herman in the main event of an American Legion boxing show here Friday night.

PIGEON RACING

The Victoria Racing Pigeon Club held its first race yesterday at the Seattle last Saturday, an air line of seventy-five miles, the result being as follows:

D. Dougan 2:25.58, F. Bosson 2:28.05, W. Bryan 2:28.03, G. Stewart 2:30.30, B. Dickinson 2:30.02, H. Saville 2:30.45, J. Benoni 2:33.32, and T. Crossman 2:33.38.

JOLT FOR GAMBLERS

Chicago, April 24.—Baseball pool gamblers were given another jolt yesterday when it became known that a number of newspapers had eliminated the weekly run table, which Baseball Commissioner Landis considered an aid to the gambling element. This move came voluntarily from several editors and publishers following the suggestion from the commissioner that this information be eliminated.

LADIES GOLF

In the ladies' tombstone competition played yesterday by the ladies of the Victoria Golf Club, the winners were Mrs. Hutchinson in "A" Class and Mrs. Seale in "B" Class.

YOUNG DAUGHTER MADE WELL

Mother Tells How Her Daughter Suffered and Was Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Vancouver, B. C.—"My daughter is a young girl who has been having severe pains and weak and dizzy feelings for some time and had lost her appetite. Through an older daughter who had heard of a woman who was taking it for the same trouble, we were told of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My daughter has been taking it for several months and is quite all right now. It has done all it was represented to do and we have told a number of friends about it. I am never without a bottle of it in the house, for I myself take it for that weak, tired, worn-out feeling which sometimes comes to us all. I find it building me up and I strongly recommend it to women who are suffering as I and my daughter have."

—Mrs. J. McDonald, 2947 26th Ave. East, Vancouver, B. C.

From the age of a girl needs all the care a thoughtful mother can give. Many a woman has suffered years of pain and misery—the victim of thoughtlessness or ignorance of the mother who should have guided her during this time.

If she complains of headaches, pains in the back and lower limbs, or if you notice a slowness of thought, nervousness or irritability on the part of your daughter, make life easier for her.

Grow Bigger Better Sweet Peas
Most gardeners can grow an abundance of sweet peas, but they can't all get the beautiful large strong looking blooms that everybody likes. The only reliable method is to nourish the plants to grow strong and healthy by using FERTABS.

FERTABS

They are easy to use and clean to handle. You can carry them around your pocket and use when and where necessary. FERTABS feed the plant only. No waste and less weeding than when you use a bulky fertilizer. Use them for all your plants—flowers, fruits and vegetables. You'll get a bigger and better growth, and if you market your crop it will mean bigger profits.

Buy them where you buy your seeds.

WELL-MERITED SUCCESS

A distinguished citizen, honored politically and professionally, Dr. R. C. Treherne, whose picture appears above, made a success few have equalled. His pure herbal remedies which have stood the test for fifty years are still among the "best sellers." Dr. Treherne's Golden Medical Discovery is a blood medicine and stomach alterative. It clears the skin, beautifies it, increases the blood supply and the circulation, and pimples and eruptions vanish quickly. Beauty is but skin deep and good blood is beneath both. For your blood to be good, your stomach must be in condition, your liver active. This Discovery of Doctor Treherne's Medical Discovery, in tablet or liquid form, or send 10 cents for trial package of tablets to Dr. Treherne's Laboratory in Bridgeburg, Ontario. (Advt.)

SCIENTIST ON VISIT TO THE CITY

R. C. Treherne Is Now in New Post at Ottawa

R. C. Treherne, Chief of the Division of Field Crop and Garden Insects, Dominion Department of Agriculture, arrived in the city yesterday from Ottawa on an extended tour which will take him back to the Capital about the beginning of June.

Mr. Treherne is very well-known here from his long residence in British Columbia, and as a lecturer at the Summer school for teachers he was formerly a regular visitor. He also investigated the effects of the strawberry weevil on the berry districts of southern Vancouver Island, and prepared a bulletin on the subject.

Mr. Treherne is now occupied in combating the various insect pests which prey on the grain, root crops and vegetables of the Dominion. Special attention has been given to the corn borer in Ontario, and Mr. Treherne told The Times to-day that the outbreak in the field corn was well under control, but not yet in the sweet corn.

On his way west he attended a conference at Winnipeg to investigate the grasshopper and similar pests in the prairie provinces, there being a number of American scientists present who wished to confer on relief measures in Montana, and other boundary states.

Mr. Treherne renewed acquaintances with old friends while in the city.

MAN DROPS DEAD WHILE AT LUNCH

Mill Employee Passes; Taken by Heart Failure at Lumber Yards

Thought to be due to heart failure, Abraham Cheetham, 368 St. Charles Street, was stricken suddenly at the noon hour yesterday while eating his lunch at the Canadian Puget Sound mill, and died almost instantly.

Fellow employees saw the man collapse and rushed to his aid. Dr. Fowler, summoned at once, pronounced life extinct.

The remains were removed in the police ambulance to the B. C. Funeral Home, where they will be held in the parlour of the company's premises and Coroner E. C. Hart notified. The late Mr. Cheetham was 33 years of age, born at Radcliffe, Lancashire, England. He had resided in this city for ten years, and is survived by his widow, a son, Ellis C. Cheetham, at Sydney, Australia, and a sister, Mrs. W. T. A. Burdett, Salt Spring Island. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

ILLUSTRATED SONG RECITAL TO-MORROW

Mary McCoy Jameson, L. T. C. M., the well-known exponent of Scottish folk songs, has prepared an interesting sketch of the life and character of the Scottish poetess (Baroness Nairne). The sketch will be profusely illustrated by handsome lantern views and also interspersed with some of the Baroness' best known songs, including "The Auld House," "The Hundred Pipers," "The Heron" and "The Land of the Leal."

In securing material for this sketch Mrs. Jameson is deeply indebted to C. R. Nairne of this city, a grand nephew of the Baroness Nairne. Mr. Nairne is himself the writer of several songs of merit, one of which Mrs. Jameson will include in her program.

Mrs. Jameson will be assisted by the following well known artists, D. Ogilvie, baritone, Pipe Major Donald Cameron, Lawton Farrington, accompanist, and A. S. Huxtable, who will display the lantern views.

This entertainment will be given on Wednesday evening at the Knox Church, Stanley Avenue.

WILL HOLD GALA DAY

Special to The Times. Langford, B. C., June 10. The regular annual meeting of the Langford Women's Institute will hold their April meeting in the evening at Langford Hall at 7 o'clock, to be followed by a public meeting at 8 o'clock when Mrs. Todd will conduct a model meeting and Colonel Forster will speak. Mr. Keen will run a film of pictures in connection with the B. C. Industries. All are cordially invited to attend. Refreshments will be served by members of the Institute. The members also wish to make it known that on June 4 will be a gala day at Langford, a series of events to take place including a flower show and better baby convention, the formal opening of the new recreation ground and sports of all kinds.

Mrs. H. A. Hincks who has been staying with Mrs. J. S. Grant, returned to her home on Monday.

People in the Parson's Bridge district are petitioning for a school to be erected in their midst, as children have at present to traverse three and a half miles of public highway to reach the nearest school. Residents of Thetis Lake district with much children particularly feel the need of a near schoolhouse. Land has already been proffered for a site should the Government see fit to meet the wishes of the people in this respect.

TO PRODUCE "SEVEN LAST WORDS" AGAIN

To-morrow evening at the St. Andrew's Cathedral will be given, by request, "The Seven Last Words of Christ" (Dubois). The choir, augmented to over forty voices, has been carefully rehearsed by Father Wood, who will conduct the beautiful work, and the solos will be in the hands of Miss Eva Hart, Mr. Gillian, Ivor Brake, Frank Sehl and Major Bullock-Webster. Preceding its rendering there has been arranged a most interesting organ recital, organ numbers to be played by Father Wood and Miss McKay, and Miss Eva Hart, and Thomas McKay, tenor, will contribute vocal solos. Admission to this unusual musical event will be by ticket which can be obtained at Fletcher Bros., Douglas Street.

"ME AND MY GAL" OPENS TONIGHT

Will Be Presented at Royal for Balance of Week

The moving picture comedy at the Royal this week is an example of the sort of thing that the English producers do best. "Me and My Gal" is a simple story that depends largely upon the work of the actors for its entertainment. There is not a great deal of plot to the little play. It tells the straightforward tale of the love of a little Cockney flower girl for a big policeman. Squibs did not have very choice home surroundings in the slums. Her father was a no-good and her sister was bound for the gutter, but the flower girl had spirit, and she lost her heart to her father's investigator, a cop. How they carried on their love affair, and how they finally married in spite of opposition, makes the story of "Me and My Gal." This picture deserves to be popular because it is so simple and clean. It contains better photography than the average British picture, and Betty Whitehead makes a charming heroine. We feel certain that a great many people are going to like this comedy. It may not be as "national" as some of the "Airs-Buttons," although many fans will prefer it to either that movie or "Three Live Ghosts," the two most successful of the English pictures. We are not sure that they will not be right.

CAPITOL

When Douglas Fairbanks was traveling in Arizona some time ago he was attracted by the unusual spectacle of a big raw-boned cowboy herding successfully riding two very different mustangs at the same time, after the fashion of United States cavalrymen at military exhibitions. The thing that most interested Fairbanks was that the young chap seemed to have no difficulty in maintaining equilibrium while standing on the back of the two ponies and laughing heartily, unmindful of the danger. Fairbanks had seen many such exhibitions but they had always been taken rather seriously by those engaged. He wanted to know this young man. They were in the same place, and an hour later Thomas Smith of Arizona was engaged to look after the training of the horses for the Douglas Fairbanks production, "Douglas Fairbanks in 'Robin Hood,' a United Artists production, showing all the time at the Capitol. When Allan Dwan picked up the megaphone on the "Camera" for the studio lot and yelled "Camera" for the taking of the scenes in "Douglas Fairbanks in Robin Hood" there came rushing upon the field 500 gallant, rearing, snorting steeds, all in their flashily painted trappings, and bearing 200 bold knights of old with their shields and banners and their suits of armor. And you were transported just 300 years back to the Twelfth Century. Tom Smith of Arizona had done his work well.

DOMINION

The Paramount picture, "Prodigal Daughters," starring Gloria Swanson was successfully presented at the Dominion Theatre last night. The story tells of a wealthy locomotive builder who returns from a three years' business trip in Europe to find many changes in his home and family. His elder daughter has become an ultra-modern young person demanding freedom from parental convention, and his wife is prominent in a cult known as "The Modern Club," which meets regularly in his home. Miss Swanson plays "Swiftie" Forbes, daughter of the financier. She leaves the parental roof when rebuked for her speedy ways and seeks new companionships in Greenwich Village. "Prodigal Daughters" is one of the most powerful dramas of a decade, not a sermon but a picture of what may happen and what is happening in certain social circles. Scenically and in the matter of costuming, it is a picture plus. In this picture Gloria Swanson has one of the greatest opportunities ever afforded her for displaying her talents and sartorial tastes. The picture, including Ralph Graves as leading man, is splendid. Theodore Roberts has a characteristic role.

COLUMBIA

When a motion picture director is to film a story of the wild west, he must find actors and actresses who can be taken into wild places without looking like orchids in a vegetable garden. He has to find men and women who can shoot, ride, paddle a canoe, swim, build a campfire and cook if necessary. In other words, he must find healthy active human beings who have walked on something besides asphalt and who must be able to stand hardships and enjoy them, for there is still much photography done in the open spaces, despite the wonderful development of picture studios in the past few years. Dorothy Dalton is one of these unusual women. She demonstrated it in "The Flame of the Yukon," "Flare Up Sal," "The Idol of the North," and in other pictures, so when Irvin Willat sought out a woman for the leading role in his newest production, "The Siren Call," which is the feature attraction to-day, the part fell almost automatically to her. This is the story of the boom in Alaska with its colorful life and the clashing of strong-willed men and women where civilization's veneer is scratched in places. Miss Dalton can portray all the temptuous dash needed for the part; she can ride a horse like a cowboy, she can handle a canoe like an Indian, she has no fear of the rushing currents of mountain streams, and she can even retain her poise among a string of Alaskan dogs that are ready to show their teeth on the slightest provocation. David Powell and Mitchell Lewis have the leading male roles.

FINAL DANCE.

On Wednesday evening the Sixteenth Battalion, Canadian Scottish, will hold its weekly community dance at the Armories. As this will probably be the last of these entertainments to be held this year it is anticipated that there will be a large turnout on this occasion. The weekly five hundred tournament will also be held that evening. On Thursday evening an interesting lecture will be given by Captain Neville Armstrong, Intelligence officer of the battalion.

CHANGE OF TIME.

Some confusion having resulted from the change of date for the Y.W.C.A. luncheon, to inaugurate the membership drive, the convenor announces that the luncheon hour will be at 1 o'clock Wednesday, not 12 o'clock as formerly announced. All team members and other workers are invited to assemble at the Y.W.C.A. rooms at the hour now announced, when Mayor Hayward will formally open the drive with an address to the workers.

FLONZALEY QUARTETTE

PLEASES AUDIENCE

Famous Instrumentalists Are Welcomed After Long Interval

Victoria, during the winter concert season, has been unusually favored in having two celebrated string quartets, the London and the Flonzaley, visit its concert platforms, and their coming has proved fascinatingly interesting. Much has been written of both these super-excellent organizations, and as was to be expected, the playing of the one only increased the desire to hear the other. Last evening at the Royal Victoria the audience—a larger one than that which greeted the Londoners—was the more intelligently interested; the enjoyment was the more intense and even the very atmosphere seemed to be impregnated with a keener and truer sense of the high order of things.

And after all was it any wonder, for those who know and even those who do not know the science of music realized that they were in the presence of masters who were true interpreters of the productive genius of the world's greatest composers? And what art, too!—Wonderful in their unanimity of purpose, in their absolute subjugation of individuality; supreme in their delicate and rare ensemble playing, perfectly discriminating in their style, and of the mood, expressions and aims of the different composers; each instrument perfectly subdued, playing into the atmosphere of each and every one of all of which can only be obtained from constant practice, interchange of views, and from long association together; for have not these players, since the year 1903, season after season, year after year, devoting themselves exclusively to the playing of chamber music?

The Personnel

Such then is the Flonzaley quartet,

tet, and such are its players. Adolfo Belli, first violin; Alfred Pochon, second violin; Louis Bailly, viola, and Ivan d'Archembeau, violoncello. Their first number, Haydn's "Papa Haydn," as he is familiarly called, "Quartet in B Flat Major," op. 76, No. 4, was a foretaste of their ability and of their ease and virtuosity. How contrasting and beautifully played was the "Lento e assai espressivo" from the quartet in G major by Arnold Bax, at the conclusion of which the most generous applause, the artists, in equally generous manner, responding with no less than four extra numbers, these being the "Nocturne" (Glasgow) following the Bax number, the sprightly "Scherzo" by Mendelssohn after the "Adagio" and "Presto" from Schumann's famous "Quartet in A Minor," op. 41, No. 1; the lovely air "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes" following the familiar "Londonery" (Frank Bridge), and after the concluding number "Puck" (Josef Speight) a scherzo by the Russian composer Tschakowsky, all of which were played with the most enthusiastic plaudits of a thoroughly satisfied and much pleased audience.

Attractive Stage Setting

Again it was to be noticed that attention had been given the attractive in its lantern and flower effects supplied by Weiler's and Brown's Victoria Nurseries. The event was a concluding number of the artist series arranged during the season by Mrs. Ricardo.

A NEW MARCH.

Another composition has just been issued from the pen of Mrs. Tupper Noble, who has already written many songs and pianoforte pieces, in the form of a march, called "Tournament of Roses," in B flat. This had its initial performance last Saturday evening by the band of the Fifth Regiment at the Armories, and was received with much applause.

"TIZ" FOR TENDER, SORE, TIRED FEET

The minute you put your feet in a "TIZ" bath you feel pain being drawn out and comfort just soaking in. How good your tired, swollen, burning feet feel—TIZ instantly draws out the poisonous exudations that put up your feet and cause sore, inflamed, sweaty feet. "TIZ" and only "TIZ," eases the pain and soothes out of corns, callouses and bunions. Get a box of "TIZ" at any drug or department store for a few cents. Your feet are never going to bother you any more. A whole year's foot comfort guaranteed. (Advt.)

MUSICAL FESTIVAL COMPETITORS MAY USE SONG OF THEIR OWN SELECTION

To meet the many requests reaching the Musical Festival Office, Vancouver, the Committee have amended the Syllabus by permitting entrants in the Vocal Solo competitions, Class 9 a, b, c, d, e and f, to sing one number of their own selection, time not to exceed five minutes, in addition to the test pieces prescribed by the syllabus.

In view of the early visit of Granville Birtstock, the eminent English composer, and Harry Plunket Greene, the famous Irish baritone, to Vancouver where they will adjudicate at the competitions of the forthcoming musical festival, a short resume of the musical careers of these gentlemen, who occupy such high niches in their respective spheres, will be of more than ordinary interest.

Granville Birtstock, M. A., was born in London in 1858; son of a physician of eminence. He was intended for the Indian Civil Service, and afterwards for a scientific career, but was finally permitted to follow his bent, which was music. He commenced serious musical study in 1889 and in the same year he gained the Macfarren Scholarship for composition, of which he was the first holder. Leaving the Royal Academy in 1892, he founded and edited the New Quarterly Musical Review, and afterwards became conductor of one of the Balcys Theatres, and in 1901, he accompanied through the principal cities of Australia and America in 1894-5.

He next was appointed musical director of "The Tower," New Brighton, from 1896 to 1900. He then accepted the post of principal of the school of music at Midland Institute, Birmingham.

He is a prolific composer, and some of his most important works have been performed at London, Leeds, Hereford, Gloucester, Birmingham, and other great festivals. Among his finest works are a dramatic cantata, "The Fire-Worship," a lyric drama in five acts, "Rameses II.; Saul," a symphonic overture; "The Witch of Atlas," "Atlantia in Colophon" an accompanied vocal symphony; "The Great God Pan," "Suite of Orchestral" scenes from the Scottish Highlands; "Helen" variations for orchestra.

Mr. Birtstock is one of the most experienced adjudicators in Great Britain, and will commence his Canadian duties at Toronto on April 28, and, working west through the prairie provinces, will reach Vancouver on May 29, accompanied by Mr. Greene.

Mr. Harry Plunket Greene was born in Dublin in 1855. His father was a well-known barrister, and his mother was the Hon. Louisa Plunket, the authoress.

Mr. Greene was educated at Dublin, Clifton College, Stuttgart, Florence and London. He married Gwendolen Maud Parry, daughter of Sir Hubert Parry, in 1899. He was destined for the bar, but having a fine voice and natural musicianship, he adopted singing as a profession. He studied with the best teachers in Dublin, Stuttgart, Florence and London; his first public performance was at Mrs. Scott Hannel's Concert in Dublin in 1887. Since that time he has sung at most of the principal London concerts and provincial festivals, has given song recitals all over Great Britain and America, and has appeared in opera at Covent Garden.

His great vocal attainments, wide experience, sound musicianship and personal charm of manner, all justify his selection as one of the chief adjudicators at the British Columbia Musical Festival.

MAY HAVE COMMUNITY HALL.

Special to The Times.

Sidney—Delegates from the Board of Trade, North Saanich Women's Institute, Parent-Teacher Association, and the Social Club, met in Wesley Hall to discuss the proposed community hall. G. A. Cochran was made chairman. Mr. Macaulay read the outlines for the scheme. It was finally decided that the district should be canvassed to see what is the will of the people.

Rt. Rev. Bishop Schofield preached at Holy Trinity, Patricia Bay, at the morning service on Sunday, and at the Church Hall, Deep Cove, in the afternoon. In the evening he preached at St. Andrew's. The Bishop also blessed the new altar which has been given to St. Andrew's by the Women's Guild. The altar was designed by J. M. Keith for St. Andrew's, Sidney, when it was built about eleven years ago. The Canadian Red Cross Workshops of Victoria made the altar.

G. Murray, British Vice-Consul of Seattle, was the guest of Captain and Mrs. Philip on Saturday.

NATURALIZATION CHANGES DEBATED

Measure Delayed in Commons so Meighen May Speak

Ottawa, April 24.—(Canadian Press)—A bill to amend the Naturalization Act, which proposes three important changes in the naturalization law of Canada, was given second reading in the House of Commons last night, but was held up in committee with opposition to one feature to it from the Conservative benches. The bill is designed to bring the Canadian law in regard to naturalization as nearly as possible into conformity with that of Great Britain and the other Dominions. The first of the two chief changes in the law which the bill contains is a provision for the continuance under certain conditions of the British nationality of successive generations of British subjects born abroad. The second important alteration of the law is the abolition of court proceedings in the granting of naturalization certificates and the substitution thereof of action by the Department of the Secretary of State direct. The third change will permit the issuance of naturalization certificates to former enemies.

The first of the proposed changes passed with little discussion. It was the second which aroused objection on the part of the Opposition.

Hon. Hugh Guthrie voiced the Conservative criticism and announced that Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen desired to have the measure held till he could be present. Mr. Guthrie described the proposal to do away with the court proceedings as subversive of all political practice in Canada in regard to this matter since Confederation. It gave into the hands of a Minister, he claimed, the power to say whether a man should or should not have the right to vote for members of Parliament.

Suggested by Officials.

Hon. A. B. Copp, Secretary of State, who is in charge of the measure, said the proposal was not right to say who should vote. The change had been suggested by the officials who had charge of the administration of the law. Under existing legislation, the Secretary of State already had discretion to refuse naturalization. Consequently the amendment would give the Minister no additional power. The Parliament had found that the judges' reports were of little value in forming an opinion upon applications for naturalization. Experience had shown that it was necessary to have investigation made by the Department of Immigration and by the Mounted Police.

Mr. Copp, however, agreed to hold the bill over until Mr. Meighen could be present. The bill will be again considered in committee.

STREET ACCIDENTS IN BRITAIN INCREASE

London, April 24.—The number of street accidents in Great Britain increased by 7,756 during 1922 as compared with 1921, according to statistics just issued by the Home Office. The total for 1922 was 20,197, against 12,441 in 1921. There were 2,768 fatal accidents, of which omnibuses were responsible for 194 and tram cars 111. Other mechanically propelled vehicles caused 2,626 deaths, while bicycles fatally injured 170 persons. In the metropolitan police district there were 675 fatal accidents and in the city nine.

LIMITATIONS ON PRIVATE BANKING

Foreigners Affected by Canadian Bank Act Amendments

Ottawa, April 24.—(Canadian Press)—Two additional sections will be incorporated in the bill to amend the Bank Act this year further to limit private banking among foreigners, it was declared at yesterday afternoon's session of the Banking and Commerce Committee. These new sections grow out of the recent Winnipeg failures to which $750,000 is alleged to have been lost. The sections on this subject, new and old, all were held over for further consideration.

The right of the chartered banks to issue notes was opposed by G. G. Coote, Progressive, Macleod, when Hon. A. K. Macleod, chairman of the committee proposed to go ahead with the discussion of the note issue section of the bill to amend the Bank Act as non-contentious. He remarked that the section was of long standing and, he thought, pretty generally accepted. "If the Bank Act is like the laws of the Medes and Persians," said Mr. Coote, "we might as well pass it tomorrow and go home." Mr. Macleod explained that he did not object to the matter standing over if there was any serious objection, but he had not heard of any. "I have not much hope of getting it changed," replied Mr. Coote, "but as a matter of principle I am diametrically opposed to it." H. E. Spencer, Battle River, Alberta, Progressive, said Canada was one of a minority of countries which allowed this right to banks. He also asked that the section stand. The clause then stood. Private Banks. The right of private bankers to do business was questioned by L. J. Laidner, Conservative, South Vancouver. Under the existing law, the term "private banker" may be used in English or French, but is prohibited in a foreign language. "I think," said Mr. Laidner, "that no institution should be allowed to use the word 'bank' unless it is a chartered bank under the Bank Act." The chairman said the native born people of Canada had a business understanding of private banking which newcomers did not have. Henry T. Ross, secretary of the Canadian Bankers' Association, explained that private bankers had been operating in Canada well on to a hundred years and it was thought unfair to interfere with them. The prohibition of the use of the term "private bankers" by foreigners was introduced ten years ago at the request of the Italian Consul-General after there had been large losses in connection with private Italian bankers in Montreal. Switzerland has 30,554 motor vehicles or approximately 145 fewer than the state of Wyoming.

STATES BROTHER STRUCK HIM FIRST

Ontario Farmer Tells of Altercation and Death of Brother

Brantford, Ont., April 24.—(Canadian Press)—W. L. Brewster, K. C., who represented Milbra Mackie, of Drumbo, at the inquest into the death of David Mackie, Jr., last week, makes the following statement of Milbra Mackie's story of the events preceding the death of David Mackie: "The two brothers, Milbra and David, owned farms across the road from each other, near the village, and Milbra went over to his brother's to borrow a wrench. They got into an altercation over a plane, and while that was going on, Milbra swore, deceased struck him on the head with a monkey wrench, raising a lump, after which he was seen by a doctor and others. The blow brought him to his knee, and getting up, he found that his brother again had the wrench raised for another blow. He then struck his brother on the head with his fist, but did not knock him down. Next he pushed David over and held him down, but did not again strike him. His brother finally got up and went to the house, apparently all right. Later, David went to the barn, but in half an hour returned in a dazed condition and finally became unconscious, death following later in the Woodstock Hospital."

The post mortem showed the skull had been fractured and that there was a clot of blood on the brain.

NEW ZEALAND RECOVERS TRADE

Wellington, N. Z., April 24.—(Canadian Press Cable via Reuters)—Premier Massey, referring to New Zealand's surplus of £1,315,683, which he announced on Saturday, said the surplus was a more pleasing result than the public had anticipated, due to the successful economy practiced by the administration and the recovery by the Dominion from the trade depression. The revenue realised from all sources exceeded the estimates by £2,287,369.

The Sandman Story For To-night

DR. WOLF'S ADVICE—Part II.

The hot catnip tea had started Mr. Fox's tooth jumping again and he was now ready to do anything that Mr. Wolf advised.

But Mr. Wolf did not give his advice at once. He finished his tea and let Mr. Fox jump and groan a minute. Then he said, "I will go out and look for a good-sized rock. Oh! Oh! I won't be gone a minute, Mr. Fox."

"He is going to knock it out," thought Mr. Fox. "Oh! dear! I can't let you even touch that rock, Mr. Wolf. You would not be so cruel as to hit it with a rock. Oh! Oh! Oh!"

In a few minutes Mr. Wolf returned with a good-sized rock which he wrapped in a good-sized cloth. Mr. Fox. Then he tied a stout cord to the jacket, which he had gathered up like a bag, while with frightened eyes Mr. Fox watched him.

"It has stopped aching," said Mr. Fox joyfully. "I am much obliged, Mr. Wolf, but I shan't need your advice after all."

"All right," Mr. Wolf replied, "but I will leave this stone all ready in case you do need it."

Mr. Wolf had hardly got out of the door before the tooth began to jump again. "Oh! mis! I mean Dr. Wolf, come back quick!" called Mr. Fox, running to the doorway.

Mr. Wolf didn't hurry any and when he came in Mr. Fox was groaning and moaning with the pain. "The
